Landlord Denied Protective Order in Manhattan Lease Dispute Discovery Fight

Justice Matthew V. Grieco
Supreme Court

In a breach of contract action arising from claimed rent arrears, Amtad LLC sued architectural firms SOSH Architects and Sykes, O'Connor, Salerno & Hazaveh over office space leases in Manhattan. Amtad later moved under CPLR 3103(a) for a confidentiality order, arguing that discovery would reveal proprietary business information, tenant data, personally identifiable information, and sensitive financial materials. It supported the request with an affidavit from its portfolio manager. The court denied the motion, holding that Amtad failed to make the minimal showing required for protection of discovery materials. The court reasoned that the affidavit contained only conclusory assertions and did not identify specific trade secrets or confidential business information. Information such as rent rolls, lease terms, and building operations was not shown to be genuinely secret. The court further noted that tax returns generally are not discoverable, and any personally identifiable information could be redacted from filings. Accordingly, the motion was denied without prejudice, the discovery stay was lifted, and the parties were directed to attend a conference.

Triable Issues Remain Over Alleged Default Under Receivables Purchase Agreement

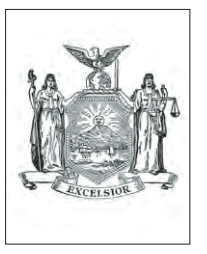
Justice Phaedra F. Perry-Bond
Supreme Court

The court denied competing summary judgment motions in a contract dispute arising from a merchant cash advance agreement between Samson MCA LLC and PTL Transport Inc., with a guaranty executed by Harman S. Basra. The plaintiff alleged it purchased $116,000 in receivables for $100,000 and that defendants defaulted after remitting only part of the agreed payments, leaving a balance exceeding $99,000. Plaintiff sought summary judgment on breach of contract and guaranty claims, while defendants argued the agreement was an unenforceable usurious loan and that plaintiff had materially breached by making daily withdrawals instead of the weekly debits required by the contract. The court held that neither side established entitlement to judgment as a matter of law. It found material factual disputes regarding whether the agreement functioned as a loan and whether plaintiff's withdrawal practices constituted a prior material breach excusing defendants' performance. Citing evidence of unconditional guarantees, a security interest, and a lack of reconciliation, the court concluded that issues remained. Accordingly, both the motion and cross-motion for summary judgment were denied.

Samson MCA LLC v. PTL Transport Inc, 450666/2024 (Sept. 4)

APP. DIV. | CRIMINAL APPEALS

Predicate Felony Tolling Requires No Jury Because It Does Not Concern Criminal Conduct



Justice Carl J. Landicino
Second Department

A defendant's resentencing as a first-time felony offender was reversed because calculating the incarceration periods that extended the predicate felony lookback period did not require a jury determination. The defendant pleaded guilty to second-degree criminal possession of a weapon and received seven years' imprisonment followed by five years of post-release supervision. He later sought to vacate his sentence, arguing that Erlinger v. United States required a jury to determine whether his prior conviction fell within the statutory 10-year period after accounting for incarceration. The sentencing court agreed and resentenced him as a first-time offender. The Appellate Division distinguished Erlinger, which required factual findings about whether prior crimes occurred on separate occasions. New York's tolling provisions instead involved ministerial calculations of incarceration dates, without examining the conduct underlying prior convictions. Those calculations were akin to determining the fact of a prior conviction and could be performed by the court. The matter was remitted for further proceedings.

Arbitration Clause Enforced Against Uber Driver in Compensation Dispute

Judge Mark Kagan
Civil Court

An Uber driver sued Uber Technologies Inc., alleging violations of minimum pay rules, denial of access to airport pickups, and other compensation-related claims. Uber moved to dismiss, relying on an agreement requiring disputes between the parties to be resolved through arbitration. After the court dismissed the action, the driver moved to reargue, contending that he fell within the Federal Arbitration Act's exemption for transportation workers engaged in interstate commerce and therefore could pursue his claims in court rather than arbitration. The court denied the motion to reargue. The court held that the claimant failed to show it had overlooked or misapprehended any controlling fact or law and concluded that Uber drivers are not exempt from arbitration under FAA Section 1. Relying on recent federal appellate authority, the court reasoned that Uber drivers primarily provide local, intrastate transportation and that occasional interstate trips do not make interstate commerce a central part of the occupation. The court concluded that the arbitration provision remained enforceable and denied reargument, requiring the claimant to pursue his dispute in arbitration.

Husband's Support Reduction Request Denied After Court Finds Employment Concealed

Justice Edmund M. Dane
Supreme Court

In a divorce action, the plaintiff sought reimbursement of $43,092.50 representing the defendant's 73% share of court-ordered child-related add-on expenses, together with counsel fees. The defendant cross-moved to reduce his pendente lite obligations, asserting that he had lost his job and was surviving on severance pay, and also sought sanctions against the plaintiff. The plaintiff separately moved for sanctions after discovering that the defendant had obtained new employment months before filing his modification application. The court granted the plaintiff substantial relief, denied the defendant's requests, and imposed sanctions. The court held that the defendant failed to establish a substantial change in circumstances warranting modification and had not provided proof of involuntary unemployment or diligent efforts to secure comparable work. The court found that the defendant materially misrepresented his employment status by omitting his work with SRP while seeking reduced obligations, conduct it deemed frivolous under 22 NYCRR 130-1.1. The court entered judgment for $43,092.50 in arrears.

Pill Bottle Manufacturer Wins Dismissal in Child Poisoning Lawsuit

Justice Paul M. Hensley
Supreme Court

An Oklahoma child and his parent sued L.N.K. International, Inc., alleging strict liability and negligence after the child allegedly opened a child-resistant acetaminophen bottle and accessed the medication. The action was first brought in Oklahoma state court, removed to federal court, and ultimately dismissed without prejudice as to L.N.K. for lack of personal jurisdiction. The federal court also declined to transfer the matter to New York, concluding that the claims appeared unlikely to succeed. The plaintiff then commenced a new action in Suffolk County seeking damages arising from the allegedly defective pill-bottle closure. The court granted L.N.K.'s motion to dismiss the complaint with prejudice. The court declined to apply collateral estoppel because the federal court lacked jurisdiction and therefore its merits determinations were not binding. Independently reviewing the claims, the court held that they were preempted by the Federal Poison Prevention Packaging Act. The court reasoned that plaintiff sought to impose a higher safety standard than federal law requires for child-resistant acetaminophen packaging.

Article 78 Challenge to Attorney General's Representation Denial Dismissed as Untimely

Justice Elizabeth Snyder Fortino
Supreme Court

In an Article 78 proceeding, petitioner Anthony Farina challenged a determination by Letitia James, Attorney General of New York, denying his request for defense and indemnification under Public Officers Law § 17 in a federal civil rights action. The Office of the Attorney General issued a written denial on March 13, 2025. More than a year later, after a second amended complaint was filed in the federal case, Farina submitted what he characterized as a renewed request for representation. The Attorney General responded that the original denial remained the office's definitive determination. The court denied the petition as time-barred. The court held that the March 13, 2025 denial was a final and binding administrative determination that triggered the four-month statute of limitations under CPLR 217(1). The court reasoned that a request for reconsideration does not restart the limitations period absent genuinely new evidence and a fresh agency review. Because the second amended complaint contained no new information and the Attorney General merely reaffirmed the prior decision, no new determination arose. The petition was dismissed and all requested relief denied.

Matter of Farina v. James, EFCA2026-002831 (Oct. 5)

SECOND CIRCUIT | EMPLOYMENT LITIGATION

Religious Accommodation Claim Requires Avoidance Motive, Not Religious Animus

Circuit Judge Alison J. Nathan
U.S. Court of Appeals

Partial summary judgment for an employee terminated after she was denied a religious exemption from a COVID-19 vaccination requirement was vacated because the district court applied an outdated standard for religious accommodation claims. The employee sued the New York State Unified Court System under Title VII, alleging failure to accommodate her religion. The Second Circuit held that she had to show an actual need for a religious accommodation and that the employer's desire to avoid providing it was a motivating factor in an adverse employment decision. In its amended opinion, the court clarified that this standard did not require proof of discriminatory animus against religion. Her termination qualified as an adverse action, leaving unresolved whether denial of an accommodation alone would suffice. The district court also improperly treated isolated discovery statements as binding judicial admissions concerning her exemption request. The employer's inability to assess her objections' sincerity did not establish sincerity at summary judgment. The matter was remanded for application of the revised standard.

Bergin v. New York State Unified Court Sys., 25-721 (Sept. 15)

U.S. - SDNY | ATTORNEY COMPENSATION

AI Citation Misconduct Warrants Fee Award, Reduced for Limited Ability to Pay

District Judge Katherine Polk Failla
Southern District

An attorney previously sanctioned for submitting fabricated AI-generated citations and lying about their source was ordered to pay $38,877.59 in attorneys' fees and costs to counsel who investigated and reported his misconduct. Entitlement to fees under Rule 11 and 28 U.S.C. §1927 had already been established, leaving the district court to determine a reasonable amount. Counsel sought $43,086.59 for investigating the misconduct, negotiating payment and preparing the fee application. The court approved the two partners' discounted hourly rate of $575 and generally found their work reasonable. It rejected arguments that tasks should have been delegated to junior staff because the rates were comparable to approved associate rates. The investigation was compensable despite claims that the misconduct did not affect counsel's client, as it uncovered important details and saved judicial resources. A 10% reduction reflected possible inefficiencies in pursuing fees and, principally, the sanctioned attorney's limited ability to pay. Research costs were awarded in full. Payment was required within 30 days unless counsel agreed otherwise.

Flycatcher Corp. Ltd. v. Ozmos Co. LLC, 24 Civ. 9429 (Oct. 9)

U.S. - SDNY | DISPUTE RESOLUTION

Nonsignatory May Compel Arbitration of Claims Arising From His Corporate Agency

District Judge Dale E. Ho
Southern District

A corporate principal obtained arbitration of RICO, fraud and conversion claims arising from his alleged misappropriation of shares pledged as loan collateral, although he was not individually a signatory to the lending agreement. The borrower alleged he secretly sold the collateral shares, concealed the sales via falsified account statements and induced additional transfers. The district court held that he could invoke the agreement's arbitration clause because the complaint identified him as an authorized signatory who principally managed the contracting entities. The claims concerned his authority to direct collateral sales and enforce the borrower's contractual obligations, making arbitration with him reasonably foreseeable. An unclean hands defense failed as the alleged misconduct did not concern the making of the arbitration agreement. The broad clause covered all disputes arising from or connected with the contract, including claims against him. Claims against other defendants remained outside arbitration, but their substantial factual overlap with the arbitrable claims warranted staying the entire action to avoid piecemeal litigation and duplicative proceedings.

U.S. - EDNY | CIVIL PROCEDURE

Service Extension Orders Are Vacated Because Response Period Has Not Expired

District Judge Joanna Seybert
Eastern District

Orders granting additional time to serve an amended complaint and denying vacatur were set aside because the extension was granted before defendants' response deadline expired. The plaintiff sought relief under Rule 4(m), and the extension was granted 10 days later without opposition. Local Civil Rule 6.1(b), however, afforded defendants 14 days to respond. The district court held that the premature ruling improperly foreclosed their opportunity to oppose the motion and warranted relief under Rule 72(a). It rejected the plaintiff's reliance on Rule 60(b), which governed final judgments, orders or proceedings. The court reserved decision on the extension request but expressed concern that the defendant had litigated venue and pseudonym issues without raising his allegedly defective service. His pre-motion conference request likewise omitted that defense, despite his apparent knowledge of the issue from the outset. The plaintiff's counsel had received repeated assurances that service was completed. Defendants were permitted to respond to the extension motion by October 23, 2026.

CCP Part Rules

Cases appearing on the DCM and CCP Calendars in the Trial Assignment Part are ready for trial. Pursuant to 22 NYCRR §202.27, failure by counsel for a party plaintiff or a self-represented party plaintiff to appear will subject that case to dismissal. Failure by counsel for a party defendant or self-represented party defendant to appear will subject the case to an immediate inquest.

All cases appearing on the DCM Trial Calendar will be disposed pursuant to the time limits set forth in 22 NYCRR §202.19.

Attorney service may answer the Calendar and request an adjournment, within the 22 NYCRR §202.19 time frame, only on consent of all parties.

In all cases in which a party intends to present a motion in limine, that party shall so advise the Court prior to jury selection.

All stipulations of settlement recorded by the court on the report of settlement and entered into the clerk's computer record system are valid and enforceable pursuant to CPLR 2104.

The following calendars are subject to changes — including adjournments — which may occur prior to the court date. Please call the Court Clerk to verify.

Suffolk County

SUPREME COURT

Court Notices

Please take notice that papers commencing an action or special proceedings in the Supreme or County Courts pursuant to the newly amended provisions of CPLR 304 and 306-b are to be filed with the County Clerk and not the clerks at the courthouse. In Suffolk County, the "clerk of the court" is the Suffolk County Clerk for the purposes of CPLR 304 and 306-b (see, County Law Sec.525 subd. 1).

The clerks at the courthouses cannot accept papers filed for the purposes of commencing an action or special proceeding. Papers improperly filed with the clerks at the courthouses will not be transferred to the County Clerk for filing and will, instead, be returned to the litigant.

Be advised, papers improperly filed with the clerks at the courthouse may not be deemed a "filing" which tolls the running of the applicable statue of limitations.

Please take notice that no Request for Judicial Intervention or its copies will be accepted by this court unless stamped on its face is the County Clerk's certification that the fee for its filing has been paid. This office will not transmit fees for Requests for Judicial Intervention or Index Numbers to the County Clerk. In instances where a fee for a Note of Issue is required present practices will continue.

The County Clerk requests that where practicable the Request for Judicial Intervention and fee not be accompanied by papers for submission to the court. Please include a stamped self-addressed envelope in order to expedite the return of your receipted RJI.

The Bar is requested to file stipulations of discontinuance in cases which have been assigned under the Individual Assignment System with this office in the first instance. After processing, this office will file the discontinuance with the County Clerk.
