Long-Stalled Nazi-Looted Art Claims Against Christie's to Proceed After Panel Lifts Stay

Justice John R. Higgitt
First Department

The First Department vacated a nearly decade-long stay in litigation brought by alleged heirs of Holocaust victim Margaret Kainer against Christie's over the sale of a Nazi-looted Edgar Degas painting, finding that continued delay no longer served the interests of justice. While the court agreed plaintiffs failed to show grounds for renewal based on Christie's statements in an unrelated settlement involving another artwork from Kainer's collection, it concluded that the stay, imposed in 2017 pending resolution of heirship proceedings in Switzerland, had become excessively burdensome. The court noted the Swiss proceedings remain unresolved, no discovery has occurred since the action was filed in 2013, and further delay threatens plaintiffs' ability to obtain evidence concerning transactions that occurred over 15 years ago. The panel also cited federal and state policies favoring the prompt resolution of claims involving Nazi-looted art and New York's interest in preserving the integrity of its art market. The court lifted the stay and remanded for further proceedings, while leaving open the possibility that Christie's could seek a new stay if future circumstances warrant.

Complaint Describing Plaintiff as Infant Dismissed With Leave to Recommence

Justice Aaron D. Maslow
Supreme Court

Plaintiff sought damages for personal injuries allegedly sustained while a tenant at a Courtyard by Marriott on Third Avenue in Manhattan. The complaint, signed by counsel, repeatedly described plaintiff as an infant. Several defendants moved to dismiss, arguing plaintiff lacked capacity to sue. In opposition, plaintiff's counsel asserted the references were erroneous, contended plaintiff was an adult, and offered to submit identifying documents for in camera review to establish age. The court granted defendants' motions and dismissed the complaint. It reasoned that counsel provided no documentary proof, failed to demonstrate personal knowledge of plaintiff's age, and nonetheless signed a pleading explicitly alleging infancy, triggering the presumption that a reasonable inquiry had been made into the facts. On the record, the court found plaintiff lacked capacity to sue. However, because dismissal for lack of capacity is not on the merits, the court granted plaintiff leave to recommence the action pursuant to CPLR 205(a) upon a proper showing that plaintiff was of majority age at the time of filing initially.

Charif v Courtyard by Marriott New York Manhattan/Midtown East, 540706/2025 (May 29)

KINGS | MEDICAL MALPRACTICE

Disputed Evidence on Heavy Bleeding and Follow-Up Care Bars Dismissal of OB/GYN Claims

Justice Consuelo Mallafre Melendez
Supreme Court

In a medical malpractice action, plaintiff alleged Long Island College Hospital negligently managed complications following a December 2010 medical abortion, including heavy bleeding, anemia, retained products of conception and a subsequent respiratory emergency requiring a tracheostomy. She claimed departures from accepted practice in failing to timely diagnose and treat anemia and infection, inadequately communicating critical lab results, and improperly managing airway placement, resulting in sepsis, acute respiratory distress syndrome and anoxic brain injury. The court held that most of the defendants failed to establish entitlement to summary judgment due to conflicting expert opinions raising issues of fact regarding departures from the standard of care and proximate cause. Plaintiff's experts disputed defendants' accounts of reporting, adequacy of testing and follow-up, sufficiency of efforts to notify plaintiff of life-threatening lab results and timeliness and effectiveness of airway management. Summary judgment was granted only to dismiss informed consent claims and certain limited claims against the anesthesiologist predating the emergency procedure.

Liedman v. The Long Island College Hospital, 2454/2012 (June 3)

QUEENS | MOTOR VEHICLE TORTS

Sudden Stop Claim Fails to Defeat Liability In Rear-End Collision Case

Justice Karen Lin
Supreme Court

In a personal injury action, plaintiff Ana Maria Ataide moved for partial summary judgment on liability arising from a rear-end collision at a Queens intersection. Plaintiff testified she was stopped at a red light when defendants' vehicle struck her from behind. Defendant admitted stopping behind plaintiff and then moving forward as the light changed, striking plaintiff after allegedly stopping again. The court held plaintiff established a prima facie case of negligence under the rear-end collision rule, shifting the burden to defendants to provide a non-negligent explanation. Defendants' claim that plaintiff stopped suddenly failed to raise a triable issue, as such stops are foreseeable. The court also rejected defendants' seatbelt, comparative negligence and emergency doctrine defenses as unsupported by the record. Accordingly, the court granted plaintiff's motion for summary judgment on liability and dismissed the challenged affirmative defenses, concluding no material issues of fact existed requiring trial. The action proceeded on damages, with defendants liable as a matter of law for the rear-end impact.

Ataide v. Ivey, 724294/2023 (May 29)

RICHMOND | CRIMINAL LAW

Court Allows Limited Unsealing of Complainant's Records for Impeachment Review

Judge Raja Rajeswari
Criminal Court

Defendant Ayo Odeyale, charged with forcible touching, third-degree sexual abuse and second-degree harassment arising from alleged unwanted intimate contact with complainant C.M., moved to unseal four prior criminal dockets involving C.M. He argued the sealed files, which ended in disorderly conduct pleas after drug-possession arrests, might contain exculpatory or impeachment material. The Richmond District Attorney's Office opposed, asserting defendant identified no specific credibility evidence and, alternatively, sought only in-camera review. The court held CPL 160.55, not CPL 160.50, governed because the prior matters ended in violation convictions, and neither statute nor Article 245 authorized defendant or prosecutors to obtain wholesale unsealing for discovery. However, the court reasoned that sealing creates statutory confidentiality, not an absolute constitutional bar, and that a defendant's confrontation and cross-examination rights may require limited judicial review. Because defendant's generalized showing did not justify direct disclosure, the court ordered the People to unseal and deliver the records for in-camera inspection only.

People v. Odeyale, CR-007230-25RI (May 28)

NASSAU | LITIGATION

Subpoena to OpenAI Quashed in Alpha Tech Lending Derivative Suit

Justice Rhonda E. Fischer
Supreme Court

Plaintiffs in a derivative and individual action involving Alpha Tech Lending LLC subpoenaed nonparty OpenAI OpCo, LLC for defendant John Recchio's ChatGPT prompts, inputs, uploads, outputs, drafts, legal research and account materials allegedly tied to filings, communications, claims and defenses in the litigation. Recchio, appearing pro se, moved to quash and for protective relief, arguing the requests invaded litigation-preparation materials, strategy, mental impressions, privileged information and unrelated private data. Plaintiffs cross-moved to so-order the amended subpoena and sought sanctions. The court denied Recchio's order to show cause for lack of jurisdiction because he failed to file affidavits proving strict compliance with its service requirements. However, the court granted his separate motion to quash. Although discovery is broad under CPLR 3101, the court found Recchio's AI interactions, as a pro se litigant's litigation-preparation work product, were conditionally protected. The amended subpoena was quashed, plaintiffs' cross-motion was denied and Recchio was warned to comply with court AI rules, with sanctions possible.

Assini v. Hayward, 607683/2024 (June 4)

SUFFOLK | ADMINISTRATIVE LAW

Article 78 Petition Granted Over Denial Of Permit for Third-Story Home Addition

Justice Christopher Modelewski
Supreme Court

Petitioners sought Article 78 relief after the Southold Town Board, sitting as the Coastal Erosion Hazard Board of Review, affirmed denial of a coastal erosion hazard area permit for expansion of their Long Island Sound home, including a third-story addition, stairway access and increased lot coverage. The Zoning Board of Appeals had already granted height and lot-coverage relief. The court held the board's denial lacked a rational basis and was affected by errors of law. It reasoned the proposed work was not a "major addition" under Southold Town Code Chapter 111 because the footprint increase was 9.2 percent, below the 25 percent threshold; as a nonmajor addition, it was conditionally permitted subject to reasonable conditions. The court further found the board improperly adopted the Trustees' flawed statutory interpretation and attempted to nullify the ZBA's independent variance determination by objecting to the third story. The petition was granted, the denial annulled and the board was directed to issue the CEHA permit within 10 days under local code and settled law.

Lazos v. Southold Town Board, 627526/2024 (May 27)

SECOND CIRCUIT | CRIMINAL APPEALS

Knowing Failure to Appear and Lack of Plain Error Defeat Challenge to Revocation Judgment

Circuit Judge Eunice C. Lee
U.S. Court of Appeals

A defendant who failed to appear for a supervised release violation hearing could not overturn either the resulting revocation judgment or his subsequent conviction for failure to appear, the Second Circuit held. The panel affirmed, holding that the defendant knowingly and voluntarily waived his right to be present at the violation hearing by failing to attend despite knowing when and where it would occur, and that any error in proceeding in his absence was harmless given the overwhelming evidence supporting the violations. The court also rejected a challenge to consecutive sentences imposed for the supervised-release violations and the failure to appear conviction, finding no plain error because the applicability of 18 U.S.C. §3146's consecutive-sentencing requirement in that context remains unsettled. In addition, the panel declined to revisit established precedent holding that supervised-release revocation proceedings do not violate constitutional rights to indictment, jury trial or proof beyond a reasonable doubt. The court noted that defendants facing revocation proceedings are not entitled to the full range of protections afforded in criminal trials.

U.S. v. White, 23-7400-cr (L) (June 1)

U.S. - SDNY | INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Likelihood of Consumer Confusion Allegations Sustain Trademark Claims Against Sean Combs

District Judge John G. Koeltl
Southern District

Plaintiff brought an action against defendants Sean Combs and Bad Boy Entertainment LLC, alleging that they infringed and misappropriated plaintiff's trademarks, "ACT BAD" and "ACT BAD ENTERTAINMENT." Plaintiff alleged claims for trademark infringement, trademark counterfeiting, willful trademark infringement, unjust enrichment/constructive trust and declaratory judgment. Among other things, the court denied defendants' motion to dismiss plaintiff's trademark infringement claim, holding that plaintiff adequately alleged that he has a valid registered trademark in the phrase "ACT BAD" and that defendants' use of that mark in commerce is likely to cause confusion. The court also held that plaintiff adequately alleged that he has continuously used the mark "ACT BAD" since 2020 and that the mark is entitled to trademark protection. However, the court held plaintiff failed to allege that the defendants sought to trick a consumer that he or she was "getting the genuine article, rather than a colorable imitation," and therefore plaintiff did not plausibly allege that defendants' products rise to the level of "counterfeits" within the meaning of the Lanham Act.

Kenyatta v. Combs, 24-cv-6923 (June 6)

U.S. - SDNY | CIVIL PROCEDURE

Competing Affidavits and Limited Discovery Render Rule 11 Sanctions Request Premature

District Judge Nelson S. Román
Southern District

A pro se plaintiff failed to establish that counterclaims asserted against him were so factually unsupported as to warrant Rule 11 sanctions before discovery had meaningfully progressed, a federal court held. Seeking sanctions against defendants and their counsel, the plaintiff argued that allegations underlying counterclaims for defamation, abuse of process and emotional distress-related claims were false and unsupported by evidence. The court concluded that sanctions were inappropriate at this stage because both sides submitted sworn statements supporting their respective versions of events and the factual merits of the competing allegations had not yet been tested through discovery. Noting that Rule 11 sanctions are reserved for extraordinary circumstances and generally require allegations to be utterly lacking in support or objectively unreasonable, the court found the existing record insufficient to justify sanctions. The motion was denied without prejudice to renewal after further factual development. The court added that, on the present record, it could not conclude that defendants acted unreasonably in filing or maintaining their counterclaims.

Hodges v. McGough Enter. LLC, 23-cv-05016 (June 4)

U.S. - NDNY | CONSTITUTIONAL LAW

Lack of Credible Enforcement Threat Defeats Challenge to School Board LGBTQ+ Guidance

District Judge Anne M. Nardacci
Northern District

Parents and school board members lacked standing to challenge New York guidance addressing harassment and bullying at school board meetings because they failed to show a sufficiently imminent threat of enforcement, a federal court held. Plaintiffs argued a guidance letter issued by the state attorney general and education commissioner chilled speech concerning gender identity, transgender student policies and the use of preferred pronouns. The court dismissed the complaint without prejudice for lack of standing, concluding that the guidance letter merely summarized existing state law and did not itself carry the force of law, impose penalties or direct the removal of school board members. Although the school board plaintiffs identified speech arguably affected by the guidance, they failed to plausibly allege a credible threat that the state would seek their removal or otherwise enforce the guidance against them. The parent plaintiffs additionally failed to establish causation as any limitation on their participation at board meetings would depend on the independent actions of local school boards rather than the challenged guidance itself.

COURT NOTES

NEW YORK STATE COURT OF APPEALS

Special Employment Notice
State Board of Law Examiners

Application Deadline is June 15

The Court of Appeals has released a special employment notice for an appointment to the State Board of Law Examiners:

The New York State Court of Appeals (Court) is currently entertaining applications for an appointment to the State Board of Law Examiners (Board), commencing September 15, 2026 or as soon thereafter as the position is filled. The five practicing attorneys who serve as members of the Board oversee the administration and grading of the New York bar examination, currently the Uniform Bar Examination (UBE) (developed by the National Conference of Bar Examiners), and the development of the local component consisting of the New York Law Course (NYLC) and the New York Law Examination (NYLE). The Court is interested in attracting the broadest pool of candidates possible.

Pursuant to Judiciary Law § 56, the Court appoints the members of the Board to three-year terms and the members are paid $80,496 per year, plus benefits and expenses. The position is considered part-time, but members are expected to make a significant time commitment to the position. Among their responsibilities, Board Members research, draft and edit questions for the NYLE, update and maintain the course materials for the NYLC, train contract graders and manage a grading team for the UBE. Board Members also decide matters related to disability accommodations, conduct administrative disciplinary hearings, keep abreast of developments in legal education and bar admissions, respond to inquiries from and perform outreach to the legal education community and the legal community in general, including bar associations and law schools, and perform other related duties. The position requires participation in the Board's regular monthly meetings, which may be conducted virtually or in person as well as attendance and participation in question drafting and editing conferences that may be conducted virtually or in person in Albany, New York City or other locations. Board Members also attend the bar examination administered twice per year at various locations throughout the state. Individuals currently engaged in legal education for prospective bar candidates are not eligible for the position.

Beginning with the July 2028 New York bar examination, New York will administer the NextGen Bar Exam in place of the UBE. Information about the NextGen Bar Exam is available at https://nextgenbarexam.ncbex.org/. Additional information about the current bar examination (UBE), the NYLC and the NYLE and the work of the Board is available on the Board's website at https://www.nybarexam.org.

Candidates must be admitted to the New York State bar for at least five years, be in good standing, and duly registered to practice law. NEW YORK STATE COURT OF APPEALS

Court Invites Amicus Curiae Participation in:

Matter of Katonah-Lewisboro Union Free School District v. NYSE

Matter of Mahopac Central School District v. NYSED

On April 21, 2026, the Court granted leave to appeal in Matter of Katonah-Lewisboro Union Free School District v. New York State Education Department (APL-2026-00046) and Matter of Mahopac Central School District v. New York State Education Department (APL 2026- 00047).

Both appeals involve the federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act [IDEA] (20 USC § 1400) and the state New York Education Law § 4402 (5). Under the IDEA, public schools in New York must provide special education and related services to students with disabilities until the age of 22. Education Law § 4402 (5), however, provides that eligibility for such services ends at the conclusion of the school year in which the student turns 21.

In a federal case interpreting the IDEA and Connecticut law, the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit held that because Connecticut law allows individuals over the age of 21 to pursue publicly funded adult education programs, the state must likewise provide a comparable free and appropriate public education to students with disabilities between the ages of 21 and 22 (see A.R. v Connecticut State Bd. of Educ., 5 F4th 155 [2d Cir 2021]).

New York's State Education Department issued a formal opinion that A.R. is equally applicable in New York and relied on that opinion in sustaining complaints against School Districts that determined students with disabilities were eligible for special education and related services only until the end of the school years in which the students turned 21.

School Districts commenced these proceedings to annul SED's determinations, and Supreme Court granted the petitions. The Appellate Division, Third Department, reversed.

The Court invites amicus curiae participation from those qualified and interested.

Amicus motions must comply with section 500.23 of the Court's Rules of Practice. Docket information, briefing schedules, filings and the oral argument date for these appeals are or will be available through the Court's Public Access and Search System (CourtPASS).

Questions may be directed to the Clerk's Office at 518-455-7705.

All application forms, instructions, and submission information are available on the Court's website at:
https://www.nyed.uscourts.gov/criminal-justice-act

New applications and applications for reappointment, along with all supporting documents, must be submitted in one flattened PDF file using the required naming convention, no later than September 4, 2026, by electronic submission via the Court's website.

CCP Part Rules

Cases appearing on the DCM and CCP Calendars in the Trial Assignment Part are ready for trial. Pursuant to 22 NYCRR §202.27, failure by counsel for a party plaintiff or a self-represented party plaintiff to appear will subject that case to dismissal. Failure by counsel for a party defendant or self-represented party defendant to appear will subject the case to an immediate inquest.

All cases appearing on the DCM Trial Calendar will be disposed pursuant to the time limits set forth in 22 NYCRR §202.19.

Attorney service may answer the Calendar and request an adjournment, within the 22 NYCRR §202.19 time frame, only on consent of all parties.

In all cases in which a party intends to present a motion in limine, that party shall so advise the Court prior to jury selection.

All stipulations of settlement recorded by the court on the report of settlement and entered into the clerk's computer record system are valid and enforceable pursuant to CPLR 2104.

The following calendars are subject to changes — including adjournments — which may occur prior to the court date. Please call the Court Clerk to verify.
