Sparse Corporate Record Keeps Punitive Damages at Issue in Mesothelioma Case

Justice Eric Schumacher
Supreme Court

Plaintiffs Elliott Katsnelson and his spouse sued Merck & Co., alleging Katsnelson developed mesothelioma from asbestos exposure through his use of Dr. Scholl's foot powder from 1985 through 1999. Merck, which acknowledged responsibility for Scholl's products manufactured before October 2014, sought summary judgment dismissing the complaint, cross claims and punitive damages claim. The court dismissed all cross claims but otherwise denied the motion. The court held Merck failed to establish prima facie entitlement to judgment on punitive damages. Its evidence included supplier letters certifying talc as asbestos free, a federal risk memorandum and the FDA's denial of a warning requirement. However, Merck did not show which talc was used in Dr. Scholl's, whether uncertified talc was used, whether suppliers' testing methods were effective, or how the materials affected corporate decisions. It offered no corporate affidavit or evidence addressing evolving industry knowledge and testing during Katsnelson's exposure period. Because these gaps left factual issues concerning willful, wanton or malicious conduct, the punitive damages remained for trial.

Sony Music Faces Claims of Negligent Supervision in Sean Combs Abuse Lawsuit

Justice Leslie A. Stroth
Supreme Court

Plaintiff Seven Guzel filed a lawsuit alleging that defendant Sean Combs sexually abused, drugged and raped her from 2017 to 2021. She further alleged that Sony Music Entertainment and corporate entities associated with Combs enabled his actions, ignored prior complaints, and failed to prevent the abuse. Defendants moved to dismiss the complaint under CPLR 3211(a)(5) and (7), arguing the claims were untimely and failed to state a cause of action. The court granted the motions in part and denied them in part. The court held that the action is timely because Plaintiff alleged ongoing abusive conduct extending into 2021, bringing her claims within CPLR 213-c's 20-year statute of limitations. Plaintiff adequately pled claims against Combs for false imprisonment and intentional infliction of emotional distress, as well as claims for negligent hiring, supervision and retention against the corporate entities. However, her claims for general negligence and negligent infliction of emotional distress were dismissed as duplicative. The court dismissed the general negligence and NIED claims against the corporate defendants but allowed the remaining causes of action to proceed.

Guzel v. Combs, 152568/2025 (July 9)

NEW YORK | LANDLORD TENANT LAW

Residential Co-Respondents Defeat Jurisdiction in Commercial Holdover

Judge Jeffrey S. Zellan
Civil Court

In a commercial holdover proceeding, petitioner 24 WSN LLC, successor to BNY Mellon as trustee, sought possession of premises occupied by respondent Benjamin Duell and originally named residential undertenants. After the court denied petitioner's motion to strike affirmative defenses and obtain use and occupancy, petitioner moved to reargue, while respondent cross-moved to dismiss for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. The court granted reargument but held that the proceeding had been improperly commenced in the commercial part because the original petition sought relief against residential occupants as well as the commercial tenant. Relying on appellate precedent governing summary landlord-tenant proceedings, the court reasoned that subject matter jurisdiction must exist when a case is filed and cannot be cured through amendments, stipulations, waiver, or dismissal of parties after commencement. Because the initial pleading created a jurisdictional defect, the court concluded the proceeding was fatally flawed from inception. The court dismissed the case without prejudice for lack of subject matter jurisdiction and denied the remaining requests.

24 WSN LLC v. Duell, LT-315209-23/NY (Aug. 19)

NEW YORK | TRUSTS AND ESTATES

Rule Against Perpetuities Concern Cannot Override Will's Plain Terms

Judge Hilary Gingold
Surrogate's Court

Filmmaker Paul Morrissey's will created a $1 million film trust holding rights and materials related to his work, directing that its assets remain permanently in the trust and never be sold, donated or gifted. Because the trust lacked beneficiaries and a termination provision, co-executors Marisa Indri Crawford and Alessandro Retacchi petitioned to reform the will. They proposed terminating the trust within the rule against perpetuities, distributing physical materials to museums, and transferring remaining assets to residuary beneficiaries. The court denied relief and dismissed the petition. Although courts may reform testamentary instruments to effectuate a decedent's intent, reformation generally requires a mistake apparent from the instrument itself. Here, Article Second was unambiguous and expressly required perpetual trust ownership, directly contradicting the proposed termination and distributions. The drafting attorney's affidavit, asserting Morrissey would have approved the changes despite insisting on indefinite preservation, could not establish otherwise. Extrinsic evidence cannot correct an alleged mistake in an unambiguous will or alter its terms.

Will of Paul Morrissey, 2024-4464/C (Aug. 19)

Debtor Lacks Excuse, Meritorious Defense to Credit Card Default

Justice Aaron D. Maslow
Supreme Court

Synchrony Bank sued Chazvito Candio for breach of a CareCredit credit card agreement after he failed to make required payments on his cedit card. Candio incurred charges, made his last payment in October 2024, and the account was later charged off with a balance of $5,119.94. A default judgment was entered in October 2025 by the court. Candio, appearing pro se, moved to vacate the judgment and dismiss the action, asserting he was never served because the summons and complaint were sent to the wrong address. The court denied the motion in its entirety. The court held that Candio failed to establish both a reasonable excuse for his default and a potentially meritorious defense to the claims, as required under CPLR 5015. Relying on the process server's affidavit, the court found plaintiff made prima facie proof of service under CPLR 308(2). Candio's denial of receipt was conclusory, did not specifically rebut the affidavit, and failed to overcome presumptions of proper service and mailing. He also offered no evidence disputing the debt that had accrued on his card. Accordingly, the court denied the plaintiff's vacatur motion.

Synchrony Bank v. Candio, 530442/2025 (July 30)

Landlord Wins Possession in Utica Restaurant Holdover Proceeding

Judge F. Christopher Giruzzi
City Court

Ashford-Clinton Corp. brought a holdover proceeding against Utica BBQ LLC, which leased premises in Utica. The landlord alleged the tenant stopped paying rent after December 2025, failed to complete roof and parking lot repairs, and remained after lease termination and a 10-day notice to quit. The tenant argued the landlord was responsible for repairs, claimed repair expenses offset rent, and asserted constructive eviction following a February 2026 fire. The court granted the landlord a judgment of possession and warrant of eviction, reserving damages for a hearing. The court reasoned that a commercial tenant remaining in possession must continue paying rent absent lease authorization to withhold it. The lease assigned repairs to the tenant because no boxes designating landlord responsibility were checked, and its merger clause barred contrary extrinsic evidence. The constructive-eviction defense failed because the tenant continuously occupied the premises, did not follow the fire clause's notice and termination procedures, and produced no supporting communications. The court scheduled proof on damages and withheld judgment until that amount is determined.

Ashford-Clinton Corp v. Utica BBQ LLC, LT-000550-26 (Aug. 19)

SECOND CIRCUIT | CRIMINAL APPEALS

Prior Mandate Does Not Bar Settlement Over 401(k) Garnishment Terms

Circuit Judge Alison J. Nathan
U.S. Court of Appeals

A prior appellate mandate did not prevent approval of stipulated garnishment orders governing the liquidation of Evan Greebel's 401(k) accounts to satisfy more than $10 million in restitution arising from his fraud conviction with Martin Shkreli. The Second Circuit reversed a district court order that rejected the parties' settlement and imposed a different procedure for distributing the funds. Under the agreement, 40% of the accounts would be withheld for potential federal and state taxes, while the remaining 60%, along with any resulting tax refund, would be paid to victim Travere Therapeutics Inc. The panel held that its earlier remand, which directed consideration of a possible 10% early-withdrawal tax, neither expressly nor implicitly barred the parties from settling that issue and other tax consequences. Its suggestion that the district court "may wish" to reserve funds in escrow was not a binding directive. The appeal also remained live after liquidation because the amount reserved for taxes could affect Greebel's personal liability. The case was remanded with instructions to approve the stipulated orders, which were supported by all interested parties.

Pollution Exclusion Bars Coverage for Suits Alleging Ethylene Oxide Injuries

District Judge Margaret M. Garnett
Southern District

A pollution exclusion barred coverage for hundreds of lawsuits alleging that residents suffered bodily injuries after inhaling ethylene oxide released from plaintiff Vantage Specialty Chemicals Inc.'s Illinois facility. The court dismissed Vantage's claims that defendants Starr Surplus Lines Insurance Co. and Ascot Specialty Insurance Co. breached their duties to defend or indemnify it for the underlying actions and resulting settlement. The alleged decades-long release of ethylene oxide into the surrounding air constituted classic environmental pollution because the substance dispersed throughout the community and allegedly caused injuries through inhalation. Vantage's compliance with state emissions permits did not alter the exclusion's application because the policies contained no exception for authorized or lawful releases. The court also rejected Vantage's contention that discovery was required to determine whether ethylene oxide qualified as a pollutant, finding that the underlying allegations resolved that question as a matter of law. Because every asserted injury resulted directly from exposure to the released chemical, no possible basis for coverage existed.

Vantage Specialty Chemicals Inc. v. Starr Surplus Lines Ins. Co.,, 25-CV-01311 (Aug. 14)

U.S. - SDNY | PERSONAL INJURY

Lack of Evidence Dooms Charles Oakley's Assault Claims Against MSG

District Judge Richard J. Sullivan
Southern District

Former New York Knicks star Charles Oakley failed to produce evidence from which a reasonable jury could find that Madison Square Garden (MSG) security guards assaulted him while removing him from a Knicks game in 2017. The court granted summary judgment to MSG and its related entities on Oakley's remaining assault and battery claims. Although Oakley alleged that guards pushed him to the ground and used excessive force, newly developed evidence, including video footage, eyewitness declarations and deposition testimony, supported MSG's account of the incident. Oakley acknowledged that no witness other than himself claimed he was pushed, despite the confrontation occurring before thousands of spectators and numerous cameras. His earlier draft autobiography also stated that he slipped, contradicting the version later advanced in the litigation. The court concluded that no rational jury could find that Oakley reasonably feared wrongful physical contact or that MSG intended to create such apprehension. The case remains open while separate sanctions and contempt motions are resolved.

Oakley v. MSG Networks, 17-cv-6903 (Aug. 14)

U.S. - EDNY | CONSUMER PROTECTION

Diet-Friendly Marketing Could Mislead Consumers Despite Maltodextrin Content

District Judge Hector Gonzalez
Eastern District

Consumers plausibly alleged that Drink LMNT Inc. deceptively marketed its electrolyte drink mix as suitable for keto, paleo and "whole food" diets despite its use of maltodextrin, a highly processed, high-glycemic carbohydrate. The court allowed portions of the proposed class action under New York General Business Law Sections 349 and 350 to proceed, finding that reasonable consumers could interpret the diet-related statements as representations that LMNT met identifiable dietary criteria. The claims were not preempted by federal food labeling law because they challenged the company's advertising rather than seeking to impose additional ingredient disclosure requirements. A blog post mentioning maltodextrin did not necessarily provide conspicuous notice because consumers would have needed to search LMNT's website to locate it. However, the court dismissed claims based on the phrase "no dodgy ingredients" as nonactionable puffery and found the product's front label was not misleading because its nutrition and ingredient information confirmed that electrolytes predominated. Claims based on statements the plaintiffs did not view before purchasing were also dismissed.

Sciortino v. Drink LMNT Inc., 25-CV-3126 (Aug. 14)

U.S. - EDNY | PERSONAL INJURY

Ordinary Professional Referrals and Speculative Injury Defeat Uber's Civil RICO Claims

District Judge Orelia E. Merchant
Eastern District

Uber failed to plausibly allege law firms and physicians formed or operated RICO enterprises to inflate personal injury claims arising from minor vehicle accidents. Uber contended the firms recruited passengers, referred them to doctors and paid excessive compensation for false diagnoses, unnecessary treatments and fabricated evidence designed to establish serious injuries under New York's no-fault insurance law. The court found the allegations supported only ordinary professional relationships involving client referrals, medical treatment, litigation financing and fee arrangements, rather than a shared unlawful purpose or coordinated enterprise. Uber also failed to connect the alleged bribery and fraud to the doctors' medical practices or show defendants exercised control over one another's businesses. Its RICO conspiracy claim likewise failed because the complaint did not identify a specific agreement to commit predicate acts. Additionally, Uber's alleged injury remained speculative as three underlying state court cases were still pending and could reduce or eliminate its losses. The court dismissed the RICO claims and declined jurisdiction over remaining state claims.

Uber Technologies Inc. v. Wingate, Russotti, Shapiro, Moses and Halperin LLP, 25-CV-0522 (Aug. 14)

Calendar Control Part 1

Justice R. Bruce Cozzens
516-493-3172

CCP Part Rules

Cases appearing on the DCM and CCP Calendars in the Trial Assignment Part are ready for trial. Pursuant to 22 NYCRR §202.27, failure by counsel for a party plaintiff or a self-represented party plaintiff to appear will subject that case to dismissal. Failure by counsel for a party defendant or self-represented party defendant to appear will subject the case to an immediate inquest.

All cases appearing on the DCM Trial Calendar will be disposed pursuant to the time limits set forth in 22 NYCRR §202.19.

Attorney service may answer the Calendar and request an adjournment, within the 22 NYCRR §202.19 time frame, only on consent of all parties.

In all cases in which a party intends to present a motion in limine, that party shall so advise the Court prior to jury selection.

All stipulations of settlement recorded by the court on the report of settlement and entered into the clerk's computer record system are valid and enforceable pursuant to CPLR 2104.

SUPREME COURT

The following calendars are subject to changes — including adjournments — which may occur prior to the court date. Please call the Court Clerk to verify.

Suffolk County

SUPREME COURT

Court Notices

Please take notice that papers commencing an action or special proceedings in the Supreme or County Courts pursuant to the newly amended provisions of CPLR 304 and 306-b are to be filed with the County Clerk and not the clerks at the courthouse. In Suffolk County, the "clerk of the court" is the Suffolk County Clerk for the purposes of CPLR 304 and 306-b (see, County Law Sec.525 subd. 1).

The clerks at the courthouses cannot accept papers filed for the purposes of commencing an action or special proceeding. Papers improperly filed with the clerks at the courthouses will not be transferred to the County Clerk for filing and will, instead, be returned to the litigant.

Be advised, papers improperly filed with the clerks at the courthouse may not be deemed a "filing" which tolls the running of the applicable statue of limitations.

Please take notice that no Request for Judicial Intervention or its copies will be accepted by this court unless stamped on its face is the County Clerk's certification that the fee for its filing has been paid. This office will not transmit fees for Requests for Judicial Intervention or Index Numbers to the County Clerk. In instances where a fee for a Note of Issue is required present practices will continue.

The County Clerk requests that where practicable the Request for Judicial Intervention and fee not be accompanied by papers for submission to the court. Please include a stamped self-addressed envelope in order to expedite the return of your receipted RJI.

The Bar is requested to file stipulations of discontinuance in cases which have been assigned under the Individual Assignment System with this office in the first instance. After processing, this office will file the discontinuance with the County Clerk.
