NEW YORK | EMPLOYMENT LITIGATION

Summary Judgment Denied as Court Finds Depository Bank Acted Wrongfully

Defendant Bazaruto, a former employee of plaintiff, was alleged to have intercepted checks intended for plaintiff and made out fraudulent checks and deposited them in his own account at co-defendant Schwab. Schwab moved to dismiss the NY UCC § 3-419(1) conversion causes of action for the checks that were written by Bazaruto, relying on the general rule that a depository bank should not normally be held liable on a conversion claim asserted by the drawer. The motion was denied, the court held that plaintiff properly asserted a cause of action because the facts alleged met the rare exception where a depository bank can be held liable if the drawee bank acted properly, but the depository bank acted wrongfully.

Justice Paul A. Goetz

Motion to Dismiss Charges Due to Violation Of Speedy Trial Time Denied

Defendant was arrested and charged with one count each of operating motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol and operating motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol or drugs. Defendant moved to challenge the Certificate of Compliance (COC) and dismiss the case. The motion was denied. The court held that holding pen rosters, pen holding rosters, prisoner arraignment database, BWC audit trails (evidence, device, and user), DAS entity report, deft's arraignment card, roll call logs, and interrupted patrol logs were not discoverable and consequently, a COC cannot be invalidated on the ground that those items were not disclosed or belatedly disclosed. The People, accordingly, could not be charged time for periods where the court had previously nullified their readiness.

Judge Elizabeth Y. Shamahs

People v. Aca, CR-035357-24NY (June 27)

NEW YORK | FAMILY LAW

Court Awards $89,508.84 in Attorney Fees For Petitioner

Petitioner brought an Order to Show Cause seeking counsel fees in connection with defending respondent's appeal of a Family Court decision which determined respondent had committed the family offense of harassment in the second degree in violation of Penal Law Sec. 240.26. The First Department unanimously affirmed the Family Court's decision. The court found that it was within the authority of the trial court, and within the Family Court's ancillary jurisdiction, to hear an application for post-dispositional award for attorney's fees for an appeal related to an underlying family offense proceeding. After a hearing regarding the reasonableness of attorney's fees sought by petitioner, the court heard testimony from all three attorneys who rendered services to petitioner, and found the rates charged were reasonable and the work performed was reasonable considering the complexity and trajectory of the appellate matter and litigation surrounding the instant application for fees. The court awarded attorney's fees in the sum of $89,508.84.

Judge Jonathan H. Shim

KINGS | PERSONAL INJURY

Defendant's Motion in Limine to Preclude Plaintiff's Wife From Testifying Denied

Plaintiff brought an action for personal injuries in an accident when defendant's bus driver turned left, failing to yield the right of way to plaintiff, causing plaintiff to slam into the bus. Before the trial on damages began, defendant made a motion in limine to preclude plaintiff's wife from also testifying. The motion was denied. The court noted that defendant was aware that plaintiff was married; he mentioned his wife's name at his deposition. Defendant Transit Authority did not subpoena the wife to a non-party deposition, which it could have. It was to be expected that plaintiff's wife's testimony would refer to plaintiff's condition and, based on his deposition testimony, defendant was familiar with plaintiff's condition. Therefore, there was little prejudice to defendant from permitting plaintiff to call his wife as a witness at trial.

Justice Aaron D. Maslow
Supreme Court

Valerio v. New York City Transit Authority, 522724/2022 (July 3)

RICHMOND | PERSONAL INJURY

Motion to Hold Non-Party Witness In Contempt Granted

Plaintiff brought an action arising from a negligence action in which plaintiff alleged personal injuries and property damage caused by mold contamination originating from an adjoining property owned and controlled by the moving Defendants. Plaintiff testified at her EBT that Mohammed Abuhmda, a non-party witness, informed Defendants of a hazardous condition at the property prior to discovery of the alleged mold. Defendants moved to hold the non-party witness in civil and/or criminal contempt of court for his failure to obey the lawful subpoenas served upon him and his failure to appear and give testimony under oath and in addition, awarding defendants costs, disbursements, and attorneys' fees. The motion was granted. The court held that the So Ordered Subpoena constituted a lawful and unequivocal mandate of the court and the subpoena issued by defendants was likewise valid. The record established that both were duly served upon Abuhmda, and he knowingly and willfully disobeyed them. Accordingly, the Court held that Abuhmda was in civil contempt of the Court for his willful.

Justice Ronald Castorina, Jr.
Supreme Court

Brusca v. Kuang, 150992/2023 (June 9)

WESTCHESTER | PERSONAL INJURY

Defendant and Third-Party Summary Judgments Denied in Personal Injury Action

In an action for personal injuries arising out of a workplace accident, which occurred when plaintiff fell into an opening in a concrete slab, the parties—in an action involving multiple third parties—sought orders granting summary judgment as indicated above. Plaintiff moved for summary judgment as well on the issue of liability. Plaintiff's motion was granted. The court held no rational jury could conclude that the absence of a properly secured cover on whatever opening plaintiff fell into was not a proximate cause of the accident, and plaintiff's action in stepping on a board marked "no step", if he in fact did so, was not the sole proximate cause of the accident. As for the parties, their motions for summary judgment were denied as except as to one party's common-law claims which were dismissed.

Justice Damaris E. Torrent
Supreme Court

Rights Suit Plaintiff Is Denied Appointment Of Pro Bono Counsel

Plaintiff Mescall sued Whittingham and others asserting constitutional rights violations. Mescall's application for appointment of pro bono counsel was submitted on a form meant for criminal defendants. Interpreted as a motion, the court denied plaintiff pro bono counsel. He provided no evidence that he previously attempted to obtain counsel, and thus has not demonstrated that he is unable to retain counsel. Nor, in light of the second inquiry under Hodge v. Police Officers concerning prudential factors, did plaintiff show why counsel should be appointed to represent him. To the extent he pleaded entitlement to pro bono counsel due to a limited knowledge of the law, such argument was unavailing. Further, plaintiff did not demonstrate why his claims for tortious interference, conspiracy to interfere and 42 USC §1983 conspiracy were so complex that he required counsel. Plaintiff Mescall also failed to allege special circumstances requiring appointment of counsel. Thus, the court was not convinced that appointment of counsel to plaintiff would be a wise use of limited resources.

District Judge Kenneth M. Karas
Southern District

Eatery Chain Is Granted Judgment in Bias Action Over Franchise's Termination

Henderson, a black woman, entered into a franchisee agreement with defendant Golden Corral to open a Golden Corral restaurant. She assigned her interest in the agreement to plaintiff Cornucopia Queen which sued defendant Golden Corral under 42 USC §1981 for racial discrimination grounded on disparate treatment compared to other similarly situated groups. The court granted defendant Golden Corral summary judgment on plaintiff's claim of racial discrimination or for failure to show that its legitimate business reasons were pretextual. The court rejected Cornucopia's six bases for its racial discrimination claim, and defendant Golden Corral offered multiple legitimate business reasons for terminating the parties' franchising agreement. In addition to a large volume of customer complaints, an audit identifying multiple cleanliness and sanitation violations, and a low Pleasurable Dining Experience score, the parties' relationship had deteriorated to the point where Golden Corral lost faith in plaintiff's proper, successful operation of the franchise such that Golden Corral's brand image would not suffer injury.

SEC May Serve Defendant by Emails Or Through His Lawyer in Divorce Case

The SEC filed its complaint against Taller on April 29, 2025. Taller left the United States for the U.K. in 2023. In 2024 he stated that he was residing in Dubai. Retained counsel in the United Arab Emirates determined that Taller flew to Romania in March 2024 and had not returned to the UAE as of May 2025. Taller is involved in an ongoing matrimonial action in Nassau County where he is represented by attorney Nissman. Instantly, the court permitted the SEC to serve Taller by alternative means through service on his divorce lawyer Nissman and by email to three specified email addresses. The SEC could not serve Taller through his mother and two adult daughters. The SEC did not receive non-delivery bounce back messages as to messages sent to the three subject specified email addresses. Despite exercising due diligence the SEC has been unable to locate Taller. Thus, the SEC used reasonable diligence. As the Hague Convention did not apply, alternative service on Nissman and by email was permissible and comported with due process. Service on Taller's mother and adult daughters did not comport with due process.

Magistrate Judge Robyn F. Tarnofsky
Southern District

Individual Issues Predominate Over Class In Challenge to Town's 'Boot and Tow Policy'

A provision of its City Code empowers Long Beach to seize and sell motor vehicles to pay for unpaid, often unadjudicated parking tickets (Boot and Tow Policy). Plaintiffs challenged the policy as an unconstitutional seizure of their personal property and also alleged deprivation of their due process rights and just compensation. Instantly, the court denied plaintiffs' motion for class certification. Despite a wide-ranging discussion otherwise concluding that the numerosity and typicality requirements of FRCP had been satisfied, and that in theory class action would make economical sense, the court determined that individualized issues predominated. As a result, the superiority of a class action was not demonstrated. Seizures are factually driven and determined on a case by case basis. Notably, certain defendants contend that each class member ma have experienced a different level of seizure as some vehicles may have been booted and not towed whereas others were towed and impounded.

Magistrate Judge James M. Wicks
Eastern District

Date for Fiduciary Duty Breach Claim Changed But R&R Calling for Dismissal Adopted

Instantly, defendant retirement fund was inferred to be the New York State and Local Retirement System (NYSLRS). Plaintiff alleged it violated his procedural due process rights by failing to provide notice of a change in pension benefits; that defendant Rhoads made a fraudulent misrepresentation; and, that NYSLRS breached their fiduciary duty. In his March 28, 2025, report (R&R) a magistrate judge recommended dismissal of plaintiff's claims, with prejudice and without leave to amend, as time-barred under relevant statutes of limitations. The magistrate also recommended dismissal because plaintiff was already paid post-retirement death benefits. by NYSLRS. Instantly the court partly modified the R&R which it otherwise fully adopted. The R&R was modified to state that plaintiff should have brought his breach of fiduciary duty claim by June 16, 2021, rather than Aug. 16, 2021. Plaintiff's objections to the R&R did not focus on the magistrate's findings, but rather reiterated arguments made in his original complaint.

District Judge Lawrence E. Kahn
Northern District
