DECISIONS OF INTEREST

NEW YORK | WRONGFUL DEATH

Action Against TikTok for Death of Teenager Not Fully Dismissed

Plaintiff brought a wrongful death action for the death of her son who was killed while “subway surfing,” a dangerous trend of riding on top of moving subway cars which was popularized on TikTok and Instagram. Plaintiff sued ByteDance Inc., TikTok Inc., and Meta Platforms Inc. for negligence and strict product liability based on design defects and failure to warn; she also sued Metropolitan Transportation Authority and New York City Transit Authority. Defendants moved to dismiss. The court did not fully dismiss the social media company. The court determined that plaintiff adequately alleged that the algorithms at issue went beyond mere publication or display of third-party content. Plaintiff alleged that the algorithms actively boosted certain content that had been shown to be addictive to young users. The transit defendants, however, were dismissed from the action on the basis that they were immune from liability based on governmental qualified immunity.

Justice Paul A. Goetz Supreme Court

Nazario v. ByteDance LTD, 151540/2024 (June 27)

NEW YORK | LANDLORD TENANT LAW

Claimant Awarded $9,450.50 for Bed Bug Infestation

Claimant appeared self-represented. Defendant appeared by counsel and witness. Claimant testified her apartment at 40 Park Avenue, Apt. 16B, was affected by bed bug infestation from apt. 16A and hpd violations were filed against the defendant building. Claimant alleged she had to dispose of clothing and furniture. Claimant proved she paid rent during those months of about $8,162.24. Defendant’s witness testified it first learned of the bed bug complaint on 7/31/23 and investigated the apartment and to abate the bed bug nuisance situation. Defendant counterclaimed for hpd violations, costs to abate and legal fees. Based on credible evidence and testimony, judgment was awarded to the Claimant in the amount of $ 9,450.50 plus interest.

Judge Betty Lugo-Martinez Civil Court

McAteer v. 40 Park Avenue LLC, SC-001175-24/NY (Jun 27)

KINGS | CONTRACTS

Summary Judgment Denied and Granted In Part in Breach of Contract Action

Plaintiff, in a breach of contract action, sought an order granting summary judgment in plaintiff’s favor on the first cause of action in the principal amount of $43,000, with interest, an order granting summary judgment on the second cause of action for attorney’s fees and severing that cause of action for a hearing to compute those fees, and for an order dismissing the defendant’s affirmative defenses and counterclaim. The branches of the motion directing entry of summary judgment as to the first and second causes of action were denied and the branch of the motion dismissing defendant’s affirmative defenses was granted in part and denied in part. The court held plaintiff did not establish entitlement to summary judgment against the breach of contract for failure to pay on a promissory note and consequently the branch of the motion for attorney’s fees based on the breach was denied. The court struck the affirmative defenses that were not addressed by the defendant, but denied striking the affirmative defense that the complaint fails to state a cause of action.

Justice Francois A. Rivera Supreme Court

KINGS | LANDLORD TENANT LAW

Government Found in Civil Contempt After Evicting Respondent

The New York City Housing Authority-Seth Low Houses commenced this owed $12,412.03 in unpaid rent against respondents. Neither respondent answered the proceeding within the statutory timeframe and the court granted petitioner a default possessory judgment. After back and forth in which respondent stayed the eviction with orders to show cause, respondent moved for civil contempt after she was fully evicted by the martial. The motion was granted in part. The court held respondent’s argument was compelling in that petitioner should not have the opportunity to fashion its own remedy or alternatively ignore respondent’s claim because. The court found that government agencies must still be mindful of their duty to abide by the terms of a court order and that petitioner was in contempt of court.

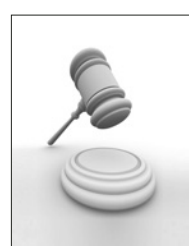

Judge Javier E. Ortiz Civil Court

NYCHA v. Ingram, L&T 326154-23/KI (June 27)

QUEENS | LANDLORD TENANT LAW

Summary Judgments Denied in Breach Of Lease Case

Self-represented plaintiff commenced an action against a former landlord seeking to collect $33,856.59 for breach of lease. Defendant counterclaimed for $46,995 for tenant misconduct and damages. Both parties submitted summary judgment motions which detailed multiple grievances against each other. Motion papers also stated that there was a Housing Court case and a Small Claims Court case between each other. Neither provided any details about any prior decisions, except one party stated he “won the case”. The court determined that material issues of fact precluded summary judgment against either party. The court directed that a pre-trial conference be scheduled.

Judge Joseph F. Kasper Civil Court

Chen v. Wu, CV-027539-24 / QU (June 29)

RICHMOND | MOTOR VEHICLE TORTS

Action Dismissed; Defendant Showed That It was Self-Insured

In an action arising from an automobile accident involving defendant driving a truck rented from defendant Home Depot and allegedly striking the vehicle driven by the plaintiff, defendant Home Depot moved for summary judgment contending the Graves Amendment, 49 U.S.C. § 30106, preempted state laws that impose vicarious liability on vehicle owners solely by reason of ownership when the vehicle is leased or rented. The motion was granted. The court held plaintiff’s principal argument was that Home Depot negligently permitted defendant to rent the truck using a potentially fictitious insurance policy number. However, the contention was speculative and unsupported by admissible evidence. Moreover, Home Depot submitted its Business Auto Declarations demonstrating that it was self-insured.

IFP Status Revoked; ‘Three Strikes’ Under PLRA Had, Imminent Danger Not Alleged

Plaintiff Clapp’s pro se January 2024 lawsuit pressed claims of violation of his constitutional rights and state-law negligence. On July 1, 2024, he was permitted to proceed in forma pauperis (IFP). In addition to dismissal under FRCP 12(b)(6) defendants sought revocation of plaintiff’s IFP status pursuant to 28 USC §1915(g). The court revoked plaintiff’s IFP status—but otherwise denied defendants’ dismissal motion—warning plaintiff that if he did not pay the appropriate filing fees within 30 days his instant lawsuit would be dismissed without prejudice. The court agreed with defendants that Clapp had at least “three strikes” under the Prison Litigation Reform Act. While in prison Clapp filed at least six other cases that were dismissed as frivolous, malicious, or for failure to state a claim. Clapp’s actions so dismissed prior to the PLRA’s enactment count as “strikes” for purposes of §1915(g). Clapp did not allege that he was under “imminent danger of serious physical injury.” Nor did his allegations demonstrate that he was or is in imminent danger.

Race Car Teams’ Motion to Compel Sport Leagues’ Compliance With Subpoenas Denied

Plaintiffs, premier stock car racing teams, compete in the NASCAR Cup Series, the top stock car racing circuit in the United States. Their 2024 North Carolina action charged NASCAR and its CEO with monopolization, violating the Sherman Act, by requiring teams to enter into non-compete provisions and to sign releases waiving their rights to challenge NASCAR’s monopoly under federal antitrust law. Plaintiffs’ subpoenas on third-party professional sports leagues sought financial information relevant to proving antitrust injury and calculating damages. District court denied plaintiff teams’ motion to compel the leagues’ response to their subpoenas. The leagues were not reasonably comparable or similar to NASCAR for benchmark purposes. Further, the racing teams could perform their benchmark analysis without the leagues’ confidential information. Most of the information that the teams seek is publicly available. Nor did the third-party leagues have a connection with the teams’ underlying litigation. Also, they established that the information sought by the teams’ subpoena was confidential commercial information, disclosure of which would be harmful.

District Judge Edgardo Ramos Southern District

U.S. - EDNY | WHISTLEBLOWER LAWS

Hospital’s Facilities Not Shown To Be Separate Hospitals; EMTALA Not Violated

Weller, a physician in the NYU Langone Health System, alleged he was fired in retaliation for reporting a violation of the Emergency Medical Treatment and Active Labor Act (EMTALA). Within hours of its initial approval, an elderly blood cancer patient’s transfer from NYU Langone Brooklyn Hospital (NYU Brooklyn) to NYU Langone Tisch (NYU Tisch) in Manhattan was cancelled. Weller’s complaint was dismissed. His belief that NYU Langone violated EMTALA was incorrect. A “transfer” under the meaning of EMTALA occurs when an individual is moved “outside a hospital’s facilities” and not as was instantly contemplated, from one NYU Langone facility to another operated by that same hospital. Further, Weller did not plead an actual EMTALA violation, and EMTALA’s whistleblower protections do not extend to those who report what they reasonably, although inaccurately, believe to constitute a violation of EMTALA. Weller did not plausibly establish that NYU Brooklyn and NYU Tisch were separate hospitals. A single hospital can subsume multiple facilities.

District Judge Eric Komitee Eastern District

U.S. - EDNY | CRIMINAL LAW

Early Release Due to Child’s Custodial Circumstances Denied; Compelling Reasons Not Shown

Defendant has served 40 months of an 85-month sentence for armed robbery. He moved for compassionate release because his nine-year-old daughter is at risk of placement in foster care; defendant alleged that the child’s mother is an unfit parent and that the child’s custodial relative no longer wants to continue the kinship care arrangement. The court denied defendant’s motion for sentence reduction. Although laudable, his desire to play a positive role in his daughter’s life did not present “extraordinary and compelling reasons” for early release. The child’s custodial circumstances were similar at defendant’s sentencing, and the court took his precarious family situation into account when it imposed a below-Guidelines sentence for extraordinarily serious conduct. Nor did defendant assert that his child’s foster placement would be unsuitable. More critically, defendant did not demonstrate that he would be a “suitable caregiver” for his daughter if granted early release. Among other things, he has struggled with substance abuse and mental health challenges, and has been described as “undomiciled.”

District Judge Rachel P. Kovner Eastern District

Default Judgment, Damages Hearing Denied; FLSA Violation Insufficiently Alleged

Plaintiffs’ 2023 lawsuit in the Eastern District of Virginia alleged overtime and untimely payment violations of the FLSA and NYLL. Default was entered against defendant Vega’s Drywall Contracting LLC, which did not answer plaintiffs’ amended complaint. District court denied plaintiffs’ motion for default judgment and for a hearing to determine damages. Plaintiffs’ amended complaint is due by July 11, 2025. Otherwise, Vega’s Drywall will be dismissed as a defendant. Federal and supplemental jurisdiction exists over the FLSA and NYLL claims. However, plaintiffs insufficiently alleged an FLSA violation. They did not identify any given workweek where defendant Vega’s did not compensate them for worked overtime. They only did so as to codefendant labor broker Fenix Finishing LLC. Plaintiffs also failed to specify the period of time they were employed by Vega’s Drywall as needed to allege an FLSA overtime claim based on allegations of regularly scheduled overtime. Such conclusions applied equally to plaintiffs’ NYLL overtime claims.
