Rule 4003.2. Scope of Discovery. [Insurance] Litigation-Related Agreements.

(a) Insurance. A party may obtain discovery of the existence and terms of any insurance agreement under which any person carrying on an insurance business may be liable to satisfy part or all of a judgment which may be entered in the action or to indemnify or reimburse for payments made to satisfy the judgment. [Information concerning the insurance agreement is not by reason of such disclosure admissible in evidence at trial.] For the purposes of this [paragraph] subdivision, an application for insurance shall not be treated as part of an insurance agreement.

(b) Third-Party Interests.

(1) A party may obtain discovery of the existence and terms of any agreement under which any person agrees to fund fees, costs, expenses, or any other sums incurred in the action or incurred by the plaintiff during the pendency of the action, in exchange for a right to influence litigation or settlement decisions with respect to the action.

(2) This subdivision does not apply to an agreement between an attorney and a represented party to provide legal services on a contingency-fee basis or to advance a client's legal costs.

Comment:

For the admissibility of liability insurance, see Pa.R.E. 411

Subdivision (b) is intended to apply to any form of arrangement in which a person or entity that is not a party to the litigation agrees to provide funds to a named party or an attorney or law firm affiliated with the action and receives a direct or collateralized interest in the proceeds of the action by settlement, verdict, judgment or otherwise. This disclosure requirement also applies to any arrangement in which a third party that provides funds to a named party or party's attorney or law firm has the ability to influence litigation or settlement decisions. Such agreements are subject to the rule regardless of whether they are executed by a party, an attorney representing a party, co-counsel in the litigation, or a third party with a collateral-based interest in the contingency fees of the counsel or cocounsel firm related in whole or part to the fees derived from representing that party.

Subdivision (b) does not alter common law doctrines of maintenance or champerty, as applied by Pennsylvania courts, which may prohibit certain litigation funding agreements. See, e.g., WFIC, LLC v. LaBarre, 148 A.3d 812 (Pa. Super. 2016). Subdivision (b) also does not alter application of Pennsylvania Rule of Professional Conduct 5.4(c), which prohibits a lawyer from permitting a person who "pays the lawyer to render legal services for another to direct or regulate the lawyers' professional judgment in rendering such legal services."

SUPREME COURT OF PENNSYLVANIA
CIVIL PROCEDURAL RULES COMMITTEE

PUBLICATION REPORT

Proposed Amendment of Pa.R.Civ.P. 4003.2

The Civil Procedural Rules Committee is considering recommending the amendment of Pennsylvania Rule of Civil Procedure 4003.2 to add procedures to permit the disclosure of third-party litigation-related agreements as part of discovery.

Pursuant to a request, the Committee examined whether the Rules of Civil Procedure should permit the disclosure of agreements between a party and a person or entity who agrees to fund litigation in exchange for an interest in the outcome of the litigation or the right to make decisions concerning the litigation. The purpose of such disclosure would ensure that both the court and the parties are aware of the potential ethical issues that may result from the involvement of an outside funder with a stake in the outcome of the litigation.

The Committee observed that Pa.R.Civ.P. 4003.2 authorizes the discovery of insurance agreements and reasoned that it would be appropriate to place any procedures for the disclosure of third-party interests within this rule. In doing so, the rule would provide uniform consistent treatment for discovery of these agreements. Accordingly, the Committee proposes adding new subdivision (b) (1) that would permit a party to obtain the existence and terms of any agreement under which any person agrees to fund the litigation in exchange for a right to influence the decision-making during the course of litigation or settlement negotiations. The Committee also recognized the need to expressly exempt other types of financing typically used by law firms in order to proceed with litigation. New subdivision (b)(2) would provide that express exemption of those types of agreements.

In addition, the Committee also proposes deleting in subdivision (a) the statement "Information concerning the insurance agreement is not by reason of such disclosure admissible in evidence at trial." The Committee concluded that it is a statement about evidentiary concerns, which would be better addressed in the Pennsylvania Rules of Evidence. The Committee proposes adding a cross-reference in the commentary to refer readers to Pa.R.E. 411 on the admissibility of liability insurance at trial.

The Committee invites all comments, objections, concerns, and suggestions regarding this proposed rulemaking.

Sanfratello v. Iwanczewski; 1008 EDA 2026; This appeal is taken from the April 9, 2026 Interim Order entered in the parties ongoing custody matter, that addressed over eleven of the parties petitions. Most of the April 9th Interim Order does not appear final or otherwise appealable. Paragraph 1 of the April 9, 2026 Order does not appear to be appealable. Paragraph 1 denied and dismissed with prejudice Appellant's motion for sanctions, Appellant's emergency petition for modification of custody, Appellant's motion to vacate order referring custody matter to CCES, Appellant's supplemental motion for sanctions, Appellant's second supplemental motion for sanctions, Appellant's new matter for contempt, Appellant's supplemental to second emergency petition for special relief, Appellant's motion in limine to exclude text messages, Appellant's motion for counsel fees.

All In One Home Improvement, LLC v. Rimar; 478 EDA 2026; The notice of appeal and the docketing statement filed by Appellant All in One Improvement, LLC, plaintiff below, Appellant purports to appeal from the January 12, 2026, order (the "Order") denying its "Motion to Vacate" the trial court's September 25, 2025, order, (the "September Order") which entered a judgment of non pros against Appellant. In the Order, the trial court stated that Appellant's "Motion to Vacate" the September Order was an "end run" around prior rulings. The trial court also noted that the request was both procedurally improper and untimely due to Appellant's history of non-compliance with trial court directives.
Com. v. Young; 1795 EDA 2025; On March 25, 2026, Appellant filed a brief through the PACFile electronic filing system. In their docketing statement, Appellants contend that the Order is appealable under Pa.R.A.P. 342(a)(3) (authorizing appeal from orphans' court order interpreting will or document that forms basis of claim against estate) and Pa.R.A.P. 342(a)(5) (authorizing appeal from orphans' court order determining status of fiduciaries, beneficiaries, or creditors in estate). It is unclear how the Order is appealable under subsections (a)(3) and (a)(5) of Rule 342. Further, an order granting partial summary judgment is generally interlocutory and unappealable.

The Prothonotary of this Court is Directed to list this appeal on a submit panel.

Wiimgjenroth v. Chester County Domestic Relations; 540 EDA 2026; Appellant Joshua Wingenroth, plaintiff below, appeals from the February 6, 2026 order that denied Appellant's motion for reconsideration of the January 12, 2026 order that sustained preliminary objections filed by Appellee the Chester County Domestic Relations Office, defendant below, and dismissed Appellant's complaint with prejudice. In his docketing statement, Appellant contends that the February 6, 2026 order is final; however, an appeal does not lie from an order denying reconsideration. Appellant's request for nunc pro tunc relief is Denied.

Com. v. King; 2812 EDA 2025; Appellant having failed to file a Brief, the appeal is Dismissed.

Sultana v. PA Citizens PAC; 3091 EDA 2025; Appellant having failed to file a Brief, the appeal is Dismissed.

Com. v. Ward; 596 EDA 2026; In accordance with this Court's April 7, 2026 Order, and in consideration of the response received, the issue raised by this Court's Order will be referred to the panel assigned to decide the merits of this appeal and the issue will be considered by that panel.

Com. v. Rodriguez; 191 EDA 2026; Appellant having failed to file a Brief, the appeal is Dismissed.

Com. v. Figueroa; 2751 EDA 2025; Appellant having failed to file a Brief, the appeal is Dismissed.

Com. v. Jordan-Waiters; 3154 EDA 2025; Appellant filed an omnibus pretrial motion. On October 30, 2025, the trial court entered an "Order Granting Motion to Compel Discovery/Order Denying Omnibus Pre-trial Motion to Suppress Evidenc[e]." On November 24, 2025, Appellant filed the instant interlocutory appeal from the trial court's October 30, 2025 order. Accordingly, Appellant is directed to show cause, in a written response filed of record in this Court, within ten (10) days of the date that this Order is filed, why the above-captioned appeal should not be quashed as taken from a non-appealable interlocutory order.

Com. v. Minate; 651 EDA 2025; Appellant having failed to file a Brief, the appeal is Dismissed.

Safeco Insurance Company of Illinois a/s/o Aleesha Faulk v. White; 2922 EDA 2025; The application of Appellant, Clark Owens, for extension of time to file Brief the application is hereby granted. Appellant's Brief shall be filed on or before May 7, 2026.

Com. v. McDonough; 3026 EDA 2025; The application of Appellee, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for extension of time to file Brief the application is hereby granted. No further extensions shall be granted absent extenuating circumstances. Appellee's Brief shall be filed on or before June 12, 2026.

Com. v. Lentz; 286 EDA 2026; The application of Appellant, William Scott Lentz, for extension of time to file Brief the application is hereby granted. No further extensions shall be granted absent extenuating circumstances. Appellant's Brief shall be filed on or before June 15, 2026.

Randall v. Rodriguez; 812 EDA 2026; On April 8, 2026, correspondence was received from the Honorable Ourania Papademetriou asserting that the appeal from the February 18, 2026 Order should be quashed, as the Order is an interlocutory custody Order that modified a prior temporary custody order pending a further custody hearing scheduled for May 13, 2026. Review reveals that the February 18, 2026 Order grants Paternal Grandmother's petition to intervene, modifies a temporary custody order, and directs that a further custody hearing shall take place on May 13, 2026. Therefore, it appears that the February 18th Order is not appealable, as generally, only final orders are appealable.

Com. v. Acovenio; 318 EDA 2026; In accordance with this Court's Order of March 9, 2026, and in consideration of Appellant's response, the issue raised by this Court's Order will be referred to the panel assigned to decide the merits of this appeal and the issue will be considered by that panel.

Sawyer v. Tara Nicole Taylor; 481 EDA 2026; This appeal has been taken from the January 6, 2026 Order that addressed Appellee's Petition for Special Relief and Contempt. Review of the trial court docket reveals that the January 6, 2026 Order was entered on the trial court docket on January 8, 2026 pursuant to Pa.R.Civ.P. 236. Indeed, the trial court docket states "copies sent to all counsel and unrepresented parties on January 8, 2026".

Brock v. Terra; 451 EDA 2026; The notice of appeal and docketing statement filed by pro se Appellant John Brock, plaintiff below, the appeal is taken from the January 6, 2026 trial court order granting the preliminary objections filed by Appellee Joseph Terra, one of four defendants below, and dismissing Appellant's complaint. In his docketing statement, Appellant states that he brought the underlying action pursuant to the Political Subdivision Torts Claim Act."

Brock v. Ray; 428 EDA 2025; Appellant's Petition to Discontinue Appeals is hereby Granted.

Brock v. Richardson; 2818 EDA 2024; It Is Hereby Ordered. That the application filed February 12, 2026, requesting reargument of the decision dated January 30, 2026, is Denied.

Brock v. Acovenio; 317 EDA 2026; In accordance with this Court's Order of March 9, 2026, and in consideration of Appellant's response, the issue raised by this Court's Order will be referred to the panel assigned to decide the merits of this appeal and the issue will be considered by that panel.

Zaro v. Zaro; 2451 EDA 2025; This 9th day of April, 2026, we G7 Appellant Jessica Lee Zaro's Application for Continuance of Oral Argument in the above-captioned case. The Prothonotary shall list the case before the next available argument panel in the Eastern District. The Court will contact counsel concerning details for the rescheduled argument session.

McMahon v. McMahon; 2866 EDA 2025; Appellant's unopposed application for a second extension of time to file her first brief is Granted. The "First Brief - Designated Appellant's Brief on the Merits of the Appeal" is due by May 13, 2026. No further extensions shall be granted absent extraordinary circumstances.

Shellhammer v. Shellhammer; 145 EDA 2026; The notice of appeal and docketing statement filed by Appellants Harold T. Shellhammer and Teresa T. Trudich, plaintiffs in the action docketed at No. 22-2457, the appeal is taken from the order ("Order") entered on December 30, 2025 denying Appellants' post-trial motion. Relevant here, on May 8, 2023, the trial court entered an order approving a stipulation to consolidate and consolidating the underlying matter docketed at No. 23-0145 for purposes of trial. Following a bench trial, the trial court entered the December 30, 2025 Order, at No. 22-2457 only. Appellants then filed a single notice of appeal from the Order without listing either trial court docket number in the caption.

(This is an entirely new rule.)

Rule 1034.1. Pretrial Motion in Actions for Protected Public Expression.

(a) General Rule. At any time after service of original process, a party may file a motion for dismissal of or judgment on a cause of action, or part of a cause of action, based on a party's protected public expression immunity as set forth in 42 Pa.C.S. §§ 8340.11 et seq. The motion may be decided based on the motion and any response, oral argument, or an evidentiary hearing.

(b) Stay. Except as provided in subdivision (c), the filing of a motion pursuant to this rule shall stay all other proceedings in the action including discovery and the moving party's obligation to file a responsive pleading. The stay shall remain in effect until the order ruling on the motion becomes final including the appeal of the order.

(c) Exceptions to Stay. If an action is stayed pursuant to subdivision (b):

(1) A party may challenge service of a writ of summons or a complaint, personal or subject matter jurisdiction, or venue via separately filed preliminary objections pursuant to Rule 1028.

(2) A court may allow limited discovery pursuant to Rules 4001 et seq. if a party shows that specific information:

(i) is necessary to establish whether a party has satisfied or failed to satisfy a burden pursuant to 42 Pa.C.S. § 8340.15 relating to the grant of immunity; and

(ii) is not reasonably available unless discovery is allowed.

(3) Upon a showing of good cause, a court may consider a request for special or preliminary injunctive relief pursuant to Rule 1531.

(4) Upon a showing of good cause, a court may allow a proceeding relating exclusively to a cause of action:

(i) in response to which no party has asserted protected public expression immunity; and

(ii) does not implicate an issue relevant to a party's assertion of protected public expression immunity or to the cause of action for which that immunity has been asserted.

(5) A party may voluntarily discontinue all or part of the party's action pursuant to Rule 229.

(6) A party may move to recover attorney fees, court costs, and expenses of litigation pursuant to 42 Pa.C.S. § 8340.18.

(d) Denial of Motion. If a motion is denied under this rule, a party shall have 20 days to file a responsive pleading, if a responsive pleading has not already been filed.

Rule 1028. Preliminary Objections.

(a) Grounds. Preliminary objections may be filed by any party to any pleading and are limited to the following grounds:

(1) lack of jurisdiction over the subject matter of the action or the person of the defendant, improper venue or improper form or service of a writ of summons or a complaint;

[Note: Of the three grounds available to challenge venue, only improper venue maybe raised by preliminary objection as provided by Rule 1006(e). Forum non conveniens and inability to hold a fair and impartial trial are raised by petition as provided by Rule 1006(d)(1) and (2).

See Rule of Appellate Procedure 311(b) for interlocutory appeals as of right from orders sustaining jurisdiction and venue.]

(2) failure of a pleading to conform to law or rule of court or inclusion of scandalous or impertinent matter;

(3) insufficient specificity in a pleading;

(4) legal insufficiency of a pleading (demurrer);

[Note: The defense of the bar of a statute of frauds or statute of limitations can be asserted only in a responsive pleading as new matter under Rule 1030.]

(5) lack of capacity to sue, nonjoinder of a necessary party or misjoinder of a cause of action;

(6) pendency of a prior action or agreement for alternative dispute resolution;

[Note: An agreement to arbitrate may be asserted by preliminary objection or by petition to compel arbitration pursuant to the Uniform Arbitration Act, 42 Pa.C.S. §7304, or the common law, 42 Pa.C.S. § 7342(a).]

(7) failure to exercise or exhaust a statutory remedy; and

(8) full, complete and adequate non-statutory remedy at law.

(b) Raising of Preliminary Objections. All preliminary objections shall be raised at one time. They shall state specifically the grounds relied upon and may be inconsistent. Two or more preliminary objections may be raised in one pleading.

(c) Amended Pleading Permitted and Court Action.

(1) A party may file an amended pleading as of course within [twenty] 20 days after service of a copy of preliminary objections. If a party has filed an amended pleading as of course, the preliminary objections to the original pleading shall be deemed moot.

(2) The court shall determine promptly all preliminary objections. If an issue of fact is raised, the court shall consider evidence by depositions or otherwise.

[Note: Preliminary objections raising an issue under subdivision (a)(1), (5), (6), (7) or (8) cannot be determined from facts of record. In such a case, the preliminary objections must be endorsed with a notice to plead or no response will be required under Rule 1029(d).

However, preliminary objections raising an issue under subdivision (a)(2), (3) or (4) may be determined from facts of record so that further evidence is not required.

Rule 239.5 requires every court to promulgate Local Rule 1028(c) describing the local court procedure governing preliminary objections.]

(d) Overruled Preliminary Objections. If the preliminary objections are overruled, the objecting party shall have the right to plead over within [twenty] 20 days after notice of the order or within such other time as the court shall fix.

(e) Timing for Filing Amended Pleading. If the filing of an amendment, an amended pleading, or a new pleading is allowed or required, it shall be filed within [twenty] 20 days after notice of the order or within such other time as the court shall fix.

(f) Objections to Amended Pleading. Objections to any amended pleading shall be made by filing new preliminary objections.

Preliminary objections raising an issue under subdivisions (a)(1), (a)(5), (a)(6), (a)(7), or (a)(8) cannot be determined from facts of record. In such a case, the preliminary objections must be endorsed with a notice to plead or no response will be required under Rule 1029(d).

However, preliminary objections raising an issue under subdivisions (a)(2), (a)(3), or (a)(4) may be determined from facts of record so that further evidence is not required.

Of the three grounds available to challenge venue under subdivision (a)(1), only improper venue may be raised by preliminary objection as provided by Rule 1006(e). Forum non conveniens and inability to hold a fair and impartial trial are raised by petition as provided by Rule 1006(d)(1) and (2). See Pa.R.A.P. 311(b) for interlocutory appeals as of right from orders sustaining jurisdiction and venue.

The defense of the bar of a statute of frauds or statute of limitations can be asserted only in a responsive pleading as new matter under Rule 1030 and not pursuant to subdivision (a)(4).

A claim of immunity under the Uniform Public Expression Protection Act, 42 Pa.C.S. §§ 8340.11 et seq., may be asserted by preliminary objection pursuant to subdivision (a)(4) or by motion pursuant to Rule 1034.1.

An agreement to arbitrate may be asserted by preliminary objection pursuant to subdivision (a)(6) or by petition to compel arbitration pursuant to the Uniform Arbitration Act, 42 Pa.C.S. § 7304, or the common law, 42 Pa.C.S. § 7342(a).

Rule 239.5 requires every court to promulgate Local Rule 1028(c) describing the local court procedure governing preliminary objections.

Historical Commentary

The following commentary is historical in nature and represents statements of the Committee at the time of rulemaking:

Explanatory Comment--1973

These identical amendments are self-explanatory.

These subdivisions have heretofore provided that, when preliminary objections are disposed of, the Court is faced with a duty to fix a time within which the next procedural move shall take place, but contained no standard time in the event that the Court failed so to fix a time. The amendment provides that the standard time of 20 days, which appears, throughout the entire pleading chapter, shall become the norm unless the Court fixes some other time.

The amendments have the practical advantage of fixing a standard time in all cases, of relieving the Court of the burden of fixing a time except in special situations, and of removing the ambiguity that would result if the Court disposes of the preliminary objection but overlooks fixing any time for the next procedural step in the action.

SUPREME COURT OF PENNSYLVANIA CIVIL PROCEDURAL RULES COMMITTEE PUBLICATION REPORT Proposed Adoption of Pa.R.Civ.P. 1034.1 and Proposed Amendment of Pa.R.Civ.P. 1028

The Civil Procedural Rules Committee is considering recommending the adoptionnof Pennsylvania Rule of Civil Procedure 1034.1 and the amendment of Pennsylvania Rule of Civil Procedure 1028 to provide a procedure for a pretrial motion to dismiss authorized by the Uniform Public Expression Protection Act (Act), 42 Pa.C.S. §§ 8340.11 et seq., to address Strategic Lawsuits Against Public Participation (SLAPP suits),

Section 8340.16 of the Act contains a statutory pretrial motion procedure facilitating a more timely determination of a party’s assertion of immunity based upon protected public expres-sion. The Committee commenced rulemaking by examining the statutory procedure contained in § 8340.16:

- a 60-day time period after service of a pleading asserting a cause of action based on protected public expression, unless extended by the court upon good cause shown, to file the motion;
- a 60-day time period after the filing of the motion to schedule oral argument unless the court grants an extension to allow discovery or for good cause;

- a 60-day time period after oral argument for the court to rule on the motion and render its written opinion;
- imposing a stay of all other proceedings upon the filing of the motion with certain exceptions; and
- the effect of filing a motion did not preclude a party from asserting immuni-ty through other pleadings and motions available under the Rules of Civil Procedure.

42 Pa.C.S. § 8340.16(b)-(d).

The Committee does not propose a 60-day time period for filing a motion. If a time period is necessary, the Committee believed that it should be the same as other pleadings – 20 days. Without that congruence, there could be filings pending at the same time as the motion to dismiss such as preliminary objections.

Yet, the Committee observed that Rule 1028(a)(6), which permits a party to raise in a preliminary objection the ground of the pendency of a prior action or agreement, advises in a note that alternative procedural mechanisms are available when agreements to arbitrate are involved in the litigation. Notably, no time periods for filing are imposed in this circumstance. Extrapolating that concept to the motion to dismiss, the Committee concluded that, in the alternative, no specific time period for filing the motion should be imposed. Further, by eliminating a specified time period, the rule would provide flexibility by allowing the litigant to challenge the SLAPP suit with the procedural mechanism the litigant deems appropriate. Accordingly, the proposal does not include a timing requirement for the filing of the motion and instead the rule would allow the motion to be filed any time after the service of original process.

With regard to raising claims of immunity by other procedural mechanisms, the Committee proposes adding commentary to Rule 1028 advising that a claim of immunity under the Act may be asserted by preliminary objection pursuant to Rule 1028(a)(4) or Rule 1034.1.

The Committee then examined the statutory procedure for a 60-day time period within which oral argument must be scheduled as well as the time period within which the judge must render a decision on the motion after oral argument. The Committee observed that specific time periods for scheduling oral argument and for the trial court to issue a decision are not required for other motions. In maintaining procedure with other types of motions, the Committee proposes no timing requirements for oral argument or disposition of the motion. Instead, the proposed rule would specify that the motion may be decided based on the motion and any response, oral argument, or an evidentiary hearing.

The proposed rule contains, as set forth in § 8340.16(e), the imposition of a stay of proceedings upon the filing of the motion with the following certain exceptions:

- a party may challenge service of a writ of summons or a complaint, personal or subject matter jurisdiction, or venue;
- the court may allow limited discovery;
- a court may consider, upon good cause shown, a request for special or preliminary injunctive relief to protect against an imminent threat to public health or safety;
- a court may allow, upon good cause shown, a proceeding relating exclusively to a cause of action to which no party has asserted immunity to protected public expression, and does not implicate an issue relevant to a party’s assertion of protected public expression immunity or to the cause of action for which that immunity has been asserted;
- a party may voluntarily discontinue all or part of the party’s action; and
- a party may file a motion to recover attorney fees and court costs.

Finally, the proposed rule provides a 20-day time period for the filing of a responsive pleading if a motion to dismiss is denied, unless a responsive pleading has already been filed. This provision recognizes that because the motion to dismiss may be filed at any time, a responsive pleading may have been filed prior to the motion.

The Committee invites all comments, objections, concerns, and suggestions regarding this proposed rulemaking.

(ii) If necessary, the hearing officer shall immediately provide the plaintiff with the protection order issued pursuant to Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 1208(a)(1)(i) for delivery to the sheriff or the appropriate law enforcement agency to serve and execute upon the defendant.

(1) Plaintiff. If the hearing officer grants the petition in whole or in part, then the hearing officer shall give the plaintiff the protection order issued pursuant to Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 1208(a)(1)(ii).

(ii) If necessary, the hearing officer shall immediately provide the plaintiff with the protection order issued pursuant to Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 1208(a)(1)(ii) for delivery to the sheriff or the appropriate law enforcement agency to serve and execute upon the defendant.

Court Notices

6303, and the Department of Human Services.

Comment: The hearing officer shall provide the plaintiff with at least one copy of the protection order, but more than one copy may be needed. For example, the plaintiff may wish to serve the order upon multiple police departments if the plaintiff lives and works in different police jurisdictions. If it is necessary for the plaintiff to deliver the protection order to the [executing officer] sheriff or the appropriate law enforcement agency, the hearing officer should make sure that the plaintiff fully understands the process and what must be done to have the order served upon the defendant.

Service of protection orders upon the defendant at the time of execution may not be possible under some circumstances. The intention of subdivisions [(a)(2)(ii)] (a)(2)(iii) and [(b)(2)(ii)] (b)(2)(iii) is for the local police to have a service copy if they are called to the plaintiff’s residence should the defendant return there.

The hearing officer should make every effort to have the protection order served by [a law enforcement officer] the sheriff or the appropriate law enforcement agency in a timely fashion. For emergency protection orders to be meaningful, they must be served and executed at night or on a weekend. Therefore, the hearing officer [should have] has the authority to use [police officers, sheriffs, and certified constables] the sheriff or the appropriate law enforcement agency to serve and execute protection orders.

Protection orders issued pursuant to Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 1208(a)(1)(ii) in accordance with 42 Pa.C.S. § 62A09, providing for protection of victims of sexual violence or intimidation, are subject to additional service requirements. Compare 23 Pa.C.S. § 6109(a) with 42 Pa.C.S. § 62A05(d).

Service shall be made without prepayment of costs. See Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 1206(c).

SUPREME COURT OF PENNSYLVANIA

Minor Court Rules Committee

PUBLICATION REPORT

Proposed Amendment of Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 1202 and 1209

The Minor Court Rules Committee (“Committee”) is considering proposing to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania the amendment of Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 1202 and 1209, pertaining to the service of emergency protective orders.

Background

A recent statutory enactment, among other things, designates who is authorized to serve an emergency protection from abuse order. See Act of June 30, 2025, P.L. 76, No. 23 (“Act 23”). Prior to the enactment of Act 23, the Protection From Abuse Act, 23 Pa.C.S. §§ 6101 – 6122 (“PFA Act”), provided that “[i]f the court so orders, the sheriff or other designated agency or individual shall serve the petition and order.” See 23 Pa.C.S. § 6106(f). Act 23 amends § 6106(f) to provide that “the court shall adopt a means of prompt and effective service and order that the sheriff or appropriate law enforcement agency serve the petition and order.” See 23 Pa.C.S. § 6106(f).

The PFA Act defines an “appropriate law enforcement agency” as: “The duly constituted municipal law enforcement agency that regularly provides primary police services to a political subdivision or, in the absence of any such municipal law enforcement agency, the Pennsylvania State Police installation that regularly provides primary police services to the political subdivision.” See 23 Pa.C.S. § 6102 (definition of “appropriate law enforcement agency”). As defined, an “appropriate law enforcement agency” does not include a constable.

Currently, a service copy of an emergency protection from abuse order can be served upon a defendant by “a police officer, police department, sheriff, or certified constable.” See Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 1209(a)(2)(i). This is consistent with the Court’s constitutional authority to direct who is to make service of emergency protection from abuse orders. “The Supreme Court shall have the power to prescribe general rules governing practice, procedure and the conduct of all courts, justices of the peace and all officers serving process or enforcing orders, judgments or decrees of any court or justice of the peace ...” See Pa. Const., art. V, § 10(c).

Proposed Rule Changes

Notwithstanding the Court’s authority to promulgate rules governing service, the Committee is considering proposing to the Supreme Court the amendment of Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 1209(a)(2)(i) to conform with Act 23, i.e., by removing a certified constable as someone who can serve an emergency protective order and adding an appropriate law enforcement agency as an entity that can make service. The Committee does not believe that a significant number of protective orders are served by constables. In many instances, law enforcement is already involved in the situation and can proceed to serve the protective order when it is issued by the hearing officer. The Committee specifically invites comments on the extent to which constables are used throughout the Commonwealth to serve emergency protective orders.

Second, due to the short duration of emergency protective orders, timely service of such orders is paramount. The Committee believes that on-duty law enforcement personnel are better equipped to make such service within the narrow window that the emergency protective order is in force, which is “the end of the next business day the court deems itself available.” See Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 1210. Relying on law enforcement to make service would eliminate delays in service while the hearing officer locates a certified constable that is willing to do so.

A review of Act 23 reveals that its provisions are limited to protective orders issued under the PFA Act and not protective orders issued in connection with claims of sexual violence or intimidation, see 42 Pa.C.S. §§ 62A01 – 62A20. Currently, Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 1209(b)(2)(i), pertaining to the service of an emergency protective order in connection with claims of sexual violence or intimidation, has service requirements identical to emergency protection from abuse orders, i.e., service by a police officer, police department, sheriff, or certified constable. The Committee believes that the considerations behind amending the service requirements for emergency protection from abuse orders apply equally to emergency protective orders issued in connection with claims of sexual violence or intimidation. Therefore, it is considering amending Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 1209(b)(2)(i) in the same manner as subdivision (a)(2)(i).

In addition to the proposed changes to Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 1209, the Committee is also considering proposing the addition of a definition of an “ appropriate law enforcement agency” to Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 1202 (Definitions). The definition is derived directly from 23 Pa.C.S. § 6102.

Finally, stylistic changes were made throughout the rule, including, but not limited to, the reformatting of Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 1202 (Definitions)..

The Committee welcomes all comments, concerns, and suggestions regarding this proposal.

By Order of August 25, 2022, effective January 1, 2023 (“2022 amendments”), the Court rescinded Rule 1006(a.1), a special venue rule that applied to medical professional liability actions filed on or after January 1, 2002. Corresponding amendments removed references to Rule 1006(a.1) from Rule 2130, governing venue in an action against a partnership, Rule 2156, governing venue in an action against an unincorporated association, and Rule 2179, governing venue in an action against a corporation or similar entity. The 2022 amendments thus returned Rules 1006, 2130, 2156, and 2179 to their pre-2003 versions, pursuant to which medical professionals were governed by the same venue rules applicable to other non-governmental defendants.

The 2022 amendments added a provision to each rule requiring the Civil Procedural Rules Committee to “reexamine the 2022 rule amendments two years after their effective date.” Rules 1006(g), 2130(d), 2156(c), and 2179(c). The committee received commentary on behalf of medical professionals asserting that the impact of the 2022 amendments could not yet be determined, and that more time was needed to develop the necessary data. By Order of February 18, 2026, the Court amended Rules 1006, 2130, 2156, and 2179 to remove the expired reexamination provisions. ORDER AMENDING RULES 200, 300, 302, AND 630 OF THE PENNSYLVANIA RULES OF JUVENILE COURT PROCEDURE: SUPREME COURT RULES DOCKET

PER CURIAM

AND NOW, this 18th day of February, 2026, upon the recommendation of the Juvenile Court Procedural Rules Committee, the proposal having been published for public comment at 54 Pa.B. 5087 (August 10, 2024):

It is Ordered pursuant to Article V, Section 10 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania that Rules 200, 300, 302, and 630 of the Pennsylvania Rules of Juvenile Court Procedure are amended in the attached form.

This Order shall be processed in accordance with Pa.R.J.A. 103(b), and shall be effective July 1, 2026.

Additions to the rule are shown in bold and are underlined.
Deletions from the rule are shown in bold and brackets.

SUPREME COURT OF PENNSYLVANIA JUVENILE COURT PROCEDURAL RULES COMMITTEE

ADOPTION REPORT

Amendment of Pa.R.J.C.P. 200, 300, 302, and 630

On February 18, 2026, the Supreme Court amended Pennsylvania Rules of Juvenile Court Procedure 200, 300, 302, and 630 governing venue, intercounty transfers, courtesy supervision, and closing of delinquency cases. The Juvenile Court Procedural Rules Committee has prepared this Adoption Report describing the rulemaking process. An Adoption Report should not be confused with Comments to the rules. See Pa.R.J.A. 103, cmt. The statements contained herein are those of the Committee, not the Court.

The genesis of this proposal was a request to create a statewide form to be used for the transfer of delinquency cases from one county to another. This request prompted the Committee to examine the transfer rules in light of previous rulemaking concerning the transfer of dependency cases. See 50 Pa.B. 2389 (May 9, 2020).

The Juvenile Act permits a delinquency proceeding to be commenced in the county where the juvenile resides or in the county where the acts constituting the alleged delinquency occurred. See 42 Pa.C.S. § 6321(b)(1)-(b)(2). Within the rules, Pa.R.J.C.P. 300 (Venue) addresses where a delinquency proceeding can be commenced. The rule also provides for a change of venue and the transmission of records.

The Juvenile Act also permits the intercounty transfer of a delinquency case if the juvenile resides in one county and the proceeding is commenced in another county. See id. § 6321(c)(1). Similarly, a transfer is permitted if the juvenile’s residence has changed during the proceeding, or the juvenile is adjudicated delinquent and there are other pending proceedings in the juvenile’s county of residence. See id. The Juvenile Act indicates that a transfer is discretionary (“the court ... may transfer the proceeding”). See id. (emphasis added).

Regarding changes of venue, the Committee proposed amendment of Pa.R.J.C.P. 300 to facilitate the transmission of records by specifying when the records should be transferred, requiring identification of the mode of transfer, creating a feedback loop for the receipt of records, assigning responsibility for scheduling the next court proceeding, and addressing the effect a change of venue has on the timing requirements for the next court proceeding.

Concerning the records transfer, the Committee believed the use of Common Pleas Case Management System would expedite the transfer rather than relying upon paper records and the United States Postal Service. Further, at this stage of a proceeding, the record typically is not voluminous.

Concerning the timing requirements for the next court proceeding, the effective date for the change of venue would be used to calculate the next procedural deadline. As Pa.R.J.C.P. 300(b) only permits a juvenile to seek a change of venue, the time restriction on detention for an untimely adjudicatory hearing would presumably be subject to the exception permitted by Pa.R.J.C.P. 240(D)(2) (permitting continued detention for delays caused by the juvenile).

Regarding intercounty transfers, the Committee proposed amending Pa.R.J.C.P. 302(a)

to permit transfers any time after the ruling on offenses pursuant to Pa.R.J.C.P. 408, including after adjudication of delinquency pursuant to Pa.R.J.C.P. 409, but before disposition pursuant to Pa.R.J.C.P. 512. Currently, the rule only permits transfer after a ruling on the offenses pursuant to Pa.R.J.C.P. 408, but not after adjudication of delinquency pursuant to Pa.R.J.C.P. 409. The Committee proposed this amendment to provide more flexibility on when to transfer. Further, such an amendment would eliminate any potential inconsistency between the rule and the Juvenile Act. See 42 Pa.C.S. § 6321(c) (permitting transfer “after the adjudicatory hearing or at any time prior to final disposition”).

Borrowing from Pa.R.J.C.P. 1302, the Committee proposed intercounty transfer procedures that require notice to the parties and the juvenile probation office of the transferring county. The district attorney in the proposed receiving county would also receive notice and have standing to participate in the transfer hearing. For convenience, the district attorney in the proposed receiving county would be able to participate via advanced communications technology.

Next, the Committee considered the standard for granting or denying an intercounty transfer motion. Pa.R.J.C.P. 1302(C) incorporates a “best interest” standard for dependency transfers. The Committee proposed the standard found in 42 Pa.C.S. § 6352 governing delinquency dispositions: The transfer must be consistent with the protection of the public interest and best suited to the juvenile’s treatment, supervision, rehabilitation, and welfare.

The Committee next considered whether the discretion to transfer should be solely vested in the transferring court or whether it should be shared with the receiving court insofar as both courts must agree. The Committee observed that the case law illustrates a practice, at least with regard to dependency transfers, where both the transferring county and the receiving county are able to weigh in on a transfer. See, e.g., Interest of J.S.M., 514 A.2d 899 (Pa. Super. 1986); In re G.B., 530 A.2d 496 (Pa. Super. 1987). The transferring county makes the “transfer” decision, and the receiving county makes the “acceptance” decision.

The Committee believed there was value in participatory decision-making between the courts. Such an approach would reduce the possibility of cases “ping ponging” back to the transferring court if the receiving court disagrees with the initial transfer decision. Further, the Committee found the Uniform Child Custody Jurisdiction and Enforcement Act’s procedure of allowing the receiving court to decline jurisdiction in certain circumstances to be an example of shared decision-making between courts. See 23 Pa.C.S. §§ 5427, 5428. Ultimately, the Committee concluded that the rules should allow the receiving court to participate in the transfer decision. This would also be consistent with the procedures for the intercounty transfers of dependency cases.

As proposed, the procedural concept for intercounty transfers involves a two-step process. First, the transferring county is to conduct a hearing to determine whether it is consistent with the goals of juvenile justice. Second, assuming the transferring court determines in the affirmative, the transferring court then communicates with the receiving court to ascertain whether jurisdiction will be accepted.

To bridge the two-step process, the commentary states that a transfer is not consistent with the goals of juvenile justice if the receiving judicial district does not accept jurisdiction. This was believed necessary so the order denying the transfer remains in the transferring county as opposed to docketing the 42 Pa.C.S. § 6352 decision in the transferring county and the rejection of jurisdiction decision in the receiving county.

Proposed Pa.R.J.C.P. 302(a)(4)(i) would require subsequent communication with the court in the receiving judicial district to determine whether the receiving court will accept jurisdiction. The manner of communication and requirements of a record in subdivision (a)(4)(i) are intentionally non-specific. Judges, at their preference, may opt to communicate via email or telephonically. A “record of the communication” could be a memorialization of communications or a transcript. Thereafter, the parties may file written responses with the transferring court regarding the decision to accept jurisdiction. While the Committee did not anticipate that courts would frequently reject intercounty transfers, this provision for written responses was intended to provide due process if there is a rejection. Subdivision (a)(6) permits the courts to discuss administrative matters without informing the parties or making a record. Subdivision (a)(4)(i) and (a)(6) were based, in part, on the Uniform Child Custody Jurisdiction and Enforcement Act, 23 Pa.C.S. § 5410.

The remaining procedures would be consistent with those found in Pa.R.J.C.P. 1302 with the exception of subdivision (a)(8), which is based on proposed Pa.R.J.C.P. 300(d). Subdivision (a)(8) would “reset” the procedural deadlines to commence from the effective date of transfer.

Lastly, the Committee proposed amendment of Pa.R.J.C.P. 630 to add subdivision (b). This subdivision would require the transferring county to order a transferred case closed within 30 days of the transfer.

The Committee published the proposal for comment. See 54 Pa.B. 5087 (August 10, 2024). One comment was received.

The commenter contended that the rule does not provide any guidance to the receiving county court on whether to accept or reject a transfer. The Committee believes the basis for refusing to accept a transfer is case specific. Further, the analogue dependency rule also does not contain a similar standard for the receiving court.

The commenter also requested that the order closing a transferred case in the transferring county, as proposed in Pa.R.J.C.P. 630(b), be served on the parties. The Committee observes that order would be served by the clerk pursuant to Pa.R.J.C.P. 167(B) so there would be no need to add this specific requirement to Pa.R.J.C.P. 630.

Pa.R.J.C.P. 302

The purpose of allowing transfer of disposition and supervision of the juvenile to the juvenile’s county of residence is to allow probation to supervise the juvenile closely. Supervision is difficult if the juvenile lives in another county.

Under paragraph (B), this rule also may apply if the juvenile moves to a different county in this Commonwealth at some stage in the proceedings.

When the case is being transferred under paragraph (A), the transferring court should enter a finding of the amount of restitution owed and to whom it should be paid, if ordered. A restitution order should be included in the dispositional order, if applicable, under paragraph (B).

county of residence after a ruling on offenses or after an adjudication of delinquency. See 42 Pa.C.S. § 6321(c)(1). However, a transfer is not required.

The court entering the dispositional order is responsible for implementing the disposition, including the costs of placement or treatment, and the collection of any financial obligations from the juvenile.

Judicial communications and service of orders on judges is unnecessary if the intercounty transfer occurs within the same judicial district.

Nothing in the rule is intended to prevent the juvenile probation office’s participation as a witness for the district attorney or a witness called by the court. See Pa.R.E. 614 (Court’s Calling or Examining a Witness). A transfer is not best suited to the juvenile’s treatment, supervision, rehabilitation, and welfare if the receiving judicial district does not accept jurisdiction.

The period between the order approving the transfer and the effective date of the transfer is intended to prepare for the case transfer. The juvenile probation offices are expected to communicate prior to the actual transfer of a case to another county so that efforts can be coordinated and services, if any, transitioned without interruption. Coordination includes the transfer of records maintained by the juvenile probation office that are not otherwise included in the official court record. This period also allows the clerk to prepare the official court record for transmission to the receiving county on the effective date of the transfer.

Nothing in this rule prohibits the use of electronic means when transferring and receiving records. However, if there is an electronic transfer, the receiving county is to send an electronic confirmation of receipt of the records as the return receipt. The transferring county’s clerk of courts is to docket the confirmation of receipt of records by the receiving county and may close the case once the confirmation has been received.

Upon receiving the order accepting the case, the transferring court may order the termination of court supervision pursuant to Rule 630(b).

Pursuant to subdivision (b)(2), if only supervision is being transferred, the juvenile’s official court record is not required to be transferred to the clerk of courts of the receiving county.

Rule 630. Loss of Court Jurisdiction.

- (a) Age. When the juvenile has attained the age of ~~[twenty-one]~~ 21, the court shall enter an order terminating court supervision of the juvenile.
- (b) Intercounty Transfer. When a juvenile’s case has been transferred to another county pursuant to Rule 302(a), the transferring court shall enter an order within 30 days of the transfer closing the case in the county from which the juvenile was transferred.

PER CURIAM

AND NOW, this 18th day of February, 2026, upon the recommendation of the Juvenile Court Procedural Rules Committee, the proposal having been published for public comment at 54
Pa.B. 5087 (August 10, 2024):

It is Ordered pursuant to Article V, Section 10 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania that Rules 200, 300, 302, and 630 of the Pennsylvania Rules of Juvenile Court Procedure are amended in the attached form.
This Order shall be processed in accordance with Pa.R.J.A. 103(b), and shall be effective July 1, 2026.

Additions to the rule are shown in bold and are underlined.
Deletions from the rule are shown in bold and brackets.

SUPREME COURT OF PENNSYLVANIA JUVENILE COURT PROCEDURAL RULES COMMITTEE

ADOPTION REPORT

Amendment of Pa.R.J.C.P. 200, 300, 302, and 630

On February 18, 2026, the Supreme Court amended Pennsylvania Rules of Juvenile Court Procedure 200, 300, 302, and 630 governing venue, intercounty transfers, courtesy supervision, and closing of delinquency cases. The Juvenile Court Procedural Rules Committee has prepared this Adoption Report describing the rulemaking process. An Adoption Report should not be confused with Comments to the rules. See Pa.R.J.A. 103, cmt. The statements contained herein are those of the Committee, not the Court.

The genesis of this proposal was a request to create a statewide form to be used for the transfer of delinquency cases from one county to another. This request prompted the Committee to examine the transfer rules in light of previous rulemaking concerning the transfer of dependency cases. See 50 Pa.B. 2389 (May 9, 2020).
The Juvenile Act permits a delinquency proceeding to be commenced in the county where the juvenile resides or in the county where the acts constituting the alleged delinquency occurred. See 42 Pa.C.S. § 6321(b)(1)-(b)(2). Within the rules, Pa.R.J.C.P. 300 (Venue) addresses where a delinquency proceeding can be commenced. The rule also provides for a change of venue and the transmission of records.
The Juvenile Act also permits the intercounty transfer of a delinquency case if the juvenile resides in one county and the proceeding is commenced in another county. See id. § 6321(c)(1).
Similarly, a transfer is permitted if the juvenile’s residence has changed during the proceeding, or the juvenile is adjudicated delinquent and there are other pending proceedings in the juvenile’s county of residence. See id. The Juvenile Act indicates that a transfer is discretionary (“the court ... may transfer the proceeding”). See id (emphasis added).
Regarding changes of venue, the Committee proposed amendment of Pa.R.J.C.P. 300 to facilitate the transmission of records by specifying when the records should be transferred, requiring identification of the mode of transfer, creating a feedback loop for the receipt of records, assigning

responsibility for scheduling the next court proceeding, and addressing the effect a change of venue has on the timing requirements for the next court proceeding.

Concerning the records transfer, the Committee believed the use of Common Pleas Case Management System would expedite the transfer rather than relying upon paper records and the United States Postal Service. Further, at this stage of a proceeding, the record typically is not voluminous.

Concerning the timing requirements for the next court proceeding, the effective date for the change of venue would be used to calculate the next procedural deadline. As Pa.R.J.C.P. 300(b) only permits a juvenile to seek a change of venue, the time restriction on detention for an untimely adjudicatory hearing would presumably be subject to the exception permitted by Pa.R.J.C.P. 240(D) (2) (permitting continued detention for delays caused by the juvenile).

Regarding intercounty transfers, the Committee proposed amending Pa.R.J.C.P. 302(a) to permit transfers any time after the ruling on offenses pursuant to Pa.R.J.C.P. 408, including after adjudication of delinquency pursuant to Pa.R.J.C.P. 409, but before disposition pursuant to Pa.R.J.C.P. 512. Currently, the rule only permits transfer after a ruling on the offenses pursuant to Pa.R.J.C.P. 408, but not after adjudication of delinquency pursuant to Pa.R.J.C.P. 409. The Committee proposed this amendment to provide more flexibility on when to transfer. Further, such an amendment would eliminate any potential inconsistency between the rule and the Juvenile Act. See 42 Pa.C.S. § 6321(c) (permitting transfer “after the adjudicatory hearing or at any time prior to final disposition”).

Borrowing from Pa.R.J.C.P. 1302, the Committee proposed intercounty transfer procedures that require notice to the parties and the juvenile probation office of the transferring county. The district attorney in the proposed receiving county would also receive notice and have standing to participate in the transfer hearing. For convenience, the district attorney in the proposed receiving county would be able to participate via advanced communications technology.

Next, the Committee considered the standard for granting or denying an intercounty transfer motion. Pa.R.J.C.P. 1302(C) incorporates a “best interest” standard for dependency transfers. The Committee proposed the standard found in 42 Pa.C.S. § 6352 governing delinquency dispositions: The transfer must be consistent with the protection of the public interest and best suited to the juvenile’s treatment, supervision, rehabilitation, and welfare.

The Committee next considered whether the discretion to transfer should be solely vested in the transferring court or whether it should be shared with the receiving court insofar as both courts must agree. The Committee observed that the case law illustrates a practice, at least with regard to dependency transfers, where both the transferring county and the receiving county are able to weigh in on a transfer. See, e.g., Interest of J.S.M., 514 A.2d 899 (Pa. Super. 1986); In re G.B., 530 A.2d 496 (Pa. Super. 1987). The transferring county makes the “transfer” decision, and the receiving county makes the “acceptance” decision.

The Committee believed there was value in participatory decision-making between the courts. Such an approach would reduce the possibility of cases “ping ponging” back to the transferring court if the receiving court disagrees with the initial transfer decision. Further, the Committee found the Uniform Child Custody Jurisdiction and Enforcement Act’s procedure of allowing the receiving court to decline jurisdiction in certain circumstances to be an example of shared decision-making between courts. See 23 Pa.C.S. §§ 5427, 5428. Ultimately, the Committee concluded that the rules should allow the receiving court to participate in the transfer decision. This would also be consistent with the procedures for the intercounty transfers of dependency cases.

As proposed, the procedural concept for intercounty transfers involves a two-step process. First, the transferring county is to conduct a hearing to determine whether it is consistent with the goals of juvenile justice. Second, assuming the transferring court determines in the affirmative, the transferring court then communicates with the receiving court to ascertain whether jurisdiction will be accepted.

To bridge the two-step process, the commentary states that a transfer is not consistent with the goals of juvenile justice if the receiving judicial district does not accept jurisdiction. This was believed necessary so the order denying the transfer remains in the transferring county as opposed to docketing the 42 Pa.C.S. § 6352 decision in the transferring county and the rejection of jurisdiction decision in the receiving county.

Proposed Pa.R.J.C.P. 302(a)(4)(i) would require subsequent communication with the court in the receiving judicial district to determine whether the receiving court will accept jurisdiction. The manner of communication and requirements of a record in subdivision (a)(4)(i) are intentionally non-specific. Judges, at their preference, may opt to communicate via email or telephonically. A “record of the communication” could be a memorialization of communications or a transcript. Thereafter, the parties may file written responses with the transferring court regarding the decision to accept jurisdiction. While the Committee did not anticipate that courts would frequently reject intercounty transfers, this provision for written responses was intended to provide due process if there is a rejection. Subdivision (a)(6) permits the courts to discuss administrative matters without informing the parties or making a record. Subdivision (a)(4)(i) and (a)(6) were based, in part, on the Uniform Child Custody Jurisdiction and Enforcement Act, 23 Pa.C.S. § 5410.

The remaining procedures would be consistent with those found in Pa.R.J.C.P. 1302 with the exception of subdivision (a)(8), which is based on proposed Pa.R.J.C.P. 300(d). Subdivision (a)(8) would “reset” the procedural deadlines to commence from the effective date of transfer.

Lastly, the Committee proposed amendment of Pa.R.J.C.P. 630 to add subdivision (b). This subdivision would require the transferring county to order a transferred case closed within 30 days of the transfer.

The Committee published the proposal for comment. See 54 Pa.B. 5087 (August 10, 2024). One comment was received.

The commenter contended that the rule does not provide any guidance to the receiving county court on whether to accept or reject a transfer. The Committee believes the basis for refusing to accept a transfer is case specific. Further, the analogue dependency rule also does not contain a similar standard for the receiving court.

The commenter also requested that the order closing a transferred case in the transferring county, as proposed in Pa.R.J.C.P. 630(b), be served on the parties. The Committee observes that order would be served by the clerk pursuant to Pa.R.J.C.P. 167(B) so there would be no need to add this specific requirement to Pa.R.J.C.P. 630.

Pa.R.J.C.P. 302

The purpose of allowing transfer of disposition and supervision of the juvenile to the juvenile’s county of residence is to allow probation to supervise the juvenile closely. Supervision is difficult if the juvenile lives in another county.

Under paragraph (B), this rule also may apply if the juvenile moves to a different county in this Commonwealth at some stage in the proceedings.

When the case is being transferred under paragraph (A), the transferring court should enter a finding of the amount of restitution owed and to whom it should be paid, if ordered. A restitution order should be included in the dispositional order, if applicable, under paragraph (B).

The court may transfer the case to the juvenile’s county of residence for a hearing to determine if the juvenile is in need of treatment, rehabilitation, or supervision pursuant to Rule 409 and if the court finds the juvenile to be in need of treatment, rehabilitation, or supervision, the receiving court shall proceed under Chapter Five.

B. Courtesy Supervision.

- 1) The court may transfer supervision of the juvenile to the juvenile’s county of residence after:

a) a consent decree is entered; or

b) a dispositional order is entered; and
- 2) The county providing courtesy supervision may, with cause, withdraw supervision at any time and return the matter for further action to the county which entered the dispositional order.

C. Transmission of all records. If the case is transferred pursuant to paragraph (A) or (B):

- 1) the transferring court shall transfer certified copies of all documents, reports, and summaries in the juvenile’s official court record to the receiving court;

(a) Intercounty Transfer.

- (1) Timing. Upon motion of a party or court, and after a hearing, the court may order the transfer of a non-resident juvenile’s case to the juvenile’s county of residence at any time after ruling on the offenses in accordance with Rule 408 and prior to the disposition hearing.
- (2) Notice. The court shall serve notice of the hearing upon the parties and the juvenile probation office. The district attorney in the proposed receiving county shall receive notice of the hearing and be granted standing to participate in the hearing.

- (4) Acceptance of Jurisdiction. If the court in the transferring county finds that the proposed transfer would be consistent with the protection of the public interest and best suited to the juvenile’s treatment, supervision, rehabilitation, and welfare:

(i) the court shall communicate with the president judge or designee of the receiving judicial district to ascertain whether jurisdiction will be accepted;

(ii) a record of the communication shall be made and served promptly by the court on the parties; and

(iii) upon service of the record of the communication, the parties shall have five days to file written responses with the court regarding the decision to accept jurisdiction.

(5) Order.

- (i) An order approving a transfer shall specify an effective date for the transfer no less than ten days from date of the order to allow for the coordination of services and preparation of the official court record for transmission.
- (ii) If not contained in the official court record, the order should enter a finding of the amount of restitution owed and to whom it should be paid, if available.
- (iii) The court shall direct the clerk of courts to serve the order upon the parties, the receiving county agency, and the president judge or designee of the receiving court, if applicable.

(6) Matters of Cooperation between Courts. Communication between courts and juvenile probation offices on schedules, calendars, court records, and similar matters may occur without informing the parties. A record need not be made of the communication.

- (i) accepting jurisdiction of the case as of the effective date;
- (ii) appointing counsel for the juvenile;
- (iii) directing the clerk of courts to serve the order upon the transferring court, if necessary, the county agencies, the parties, and the transferring county’s clerk of courts; and

(8) Next Court Proceeding. The time requirements of these rules for the next court proceeding shall be calculated from the effective date for the transfer.

(9) Transmission of Official Court Record.

- (i) The transferring county’s clerk of courts shall inform the clerk of the receiving court of the manner in which certified copies of all documents, reports, and summaries in the child’s official court record will be transferred.
- (ii) On the effective date of the transfer, the transferring county’s clerk of courts shall transmit certified copies of all documents, reports, and summaries in the juvenile’s official court record to the clerk of the court of the receiving county.

(b) Courtesy Supervision.

(1) Timing. The court may transfer supervision of a juvenile to the juvenile’s county of residence after:

(3) Continuity of Services. The juvenile probation offices shall

	arrange for the continuity of services the juvenile may be receiving with minimal disruption.
(4)	Withdrawal of Supervision. The county providing courtesy supervision may, with cause, withdraw supervision at any time and return the matter for further action to the county which entered the dispositional order.

Comment: [The purpose of allowing transfer of disposition and supervision of the juvenile to the juvenile’s county of residence is to allow probation to supervise the juvenile closely. Supervision is difficult if the juvenile lives in another county.

Under paragraph (B), this rule also may apply if the juvenile moves to a different county in this Commonwealth at some stage in the proceedings.
When the case is being transferred under paragraph (A), the transferring court should enter a finding of the amount of restitution owed and to whom it should be paid, if ordered. A restitution order should be included in the dispositional order, if applicable, under paragraph (B).]

Pursuant to subdivision (a), a juvenile’s case may be transferred to the juvenile’s county of residence after a ruling on offenses or after an adjudication of delinquency. See 42 Pa.C.S. § 6321(c)(1). However, a transfer is not required.

The court entering the dispositional order is responsible for implementing the disposition, including the costs of placement or treatment, and the collection of any financial obligations from the juvenile.

Judicial communications and service of orders on judges is unnecessary if the intercounty transfer occurs within the same judicial district.
Nothing in the rule is intended to prevent the juvenile probation office’s participation as a witness for the district attorney or a witness called by the court. See Pa.R.E. 614 (Court’s Calling or Examining a Witness). A transfer is not best suited to the juvenile’s treatment, supervision, rehabilitation, and welfare if the receiving judicial district does not accept jurisdiction.

The period between the order approving the transfer and the effective date of the transfer is intended to prepare for the case transfer. The juvenile probation offices are expected to communicate prior to the actual transfer of a case to another county so that efforts can be coordinated and services, if any, transitioned without interruption. Coordination includes the transfer of records maintained by the juvenile probation office that are not otherwise included in the official court record. This period also allows the clerk to prepare the official court record for transmission to the receiving county on the effective date of the transfer.

Nothing in this rule prohibits the use of electronic means when transferring and receiving records. However, if there is an electronic transfer, the receiving county is to send an electronic confirmation of receipt of the records as the return receipt. The transferring county’s clerk of courts is to docket the confirmation of receipt of records by the receiving county and may close the case once the confirmation has been received.

Upon receiving the order accepting the case, the transferring court may order the termination of court supervision pursuant to Rule 630(b).

Pursuant to subdivision (b)(2), if only supervision is being transferred, the juvenile’s official court record is not required to be transferred to the clerk of courts of the receiving county.

Comment: For a definition of transaction or occurrence, see Craig v. W. J. Thiele & Sons, Inc., 149 A.2d 35 (Pa. 1959).

For the recusal of the judge for interest or prejudice under subdivision (d)(2), see Rule 2.11 of the Code of Judicial Conduct.

By Order of August 25, 2022, effective January 1, 2023 (“2022 amendments”), the Court rescinded Rule 1006(a.1), a special venue rule that applied to medical professional liability actions filed on or after January 1, 2002. Corresponding amendments removed references to Rule 1006(a.1) from Rule 2130, governing venue in an action against a partnership, Rule 2156, governing venue in an action against an unincorporated association, and Rule 2179, governing venue in an action against a corporation or similar entity. The 2022 amendments thus returned Rules 1006, 2130, 2156, and 2179 to their pre-2003 versions, pursuant to which medical professionals were governed by the same venue rules applicable to other non-governmental defendants.

The 2022 amendments added a provision to each rule requiring the Civil Procedural Rules Committee to “reexamine the 2022 rule amendments two years after their effective date.” Rules 1006(g), 2130(d), 2156(c), and 2179(c). The committee received commentary on behalf of medical professionals asserting that the impact of the 2022 amendments could not yet be determined, and that more time was needed to develop the necessary data. By Order of February 18, 2026, the Court amended Rules 1006, 2130, 2156, and 2179 to remove the expired reexamination provisions. The Court will consider any future proposals as submitted through the Court’s usual rules committee processes.

PENNSYLVANIA RULES OF DISCIPLINARY ENFORCEMENT

Rule 102. Definitions.

“Former judicial officer.” A judicial officer who is no longer engaged in judicial service.

“Judge status.” The license status of a justice or judge serving on the following Pennsylvania courts of record: Supreme, Superior, Commonwealth, Common Pleas, and Philadelphia Municipal; and a justice or judge serving on the following federal courts: Supreme, Court of Appeals, Bankruptcy, and District Court, including full-time and part-time magistrate judges not otherwise engaged in the practice of law. This status includes a justice or judge who served on one of these courts and is granted senior status or certified for recall service. [An attorney on judge status is exempt from annual registration under Rule 219(a)(2).]
“Judicial officer.” A justice, judge, or magisterial district judge in the Commonwealth, or the equivalent position in another jurisdiction, who is an attorney admitted to the bar of this Commonwealth. This term includes a judicial officer who is on a senior status or is certified for recall service.
“Judicial service.” Service as a judicial officer.

Rule 201. Jurisdiction.

(a) The exclusive disciplinary jurisdiction of the Supreme Court and the Board under these rules extends to:

(1) Any attorney admitted to practice law in this Commonwealth.

Note: The jurisdiction of the Board under this paragraph includes jurisdiction over a foreign legal consultant, military attorney, attorney spouse of an active-duty service member, attorney participant in defender or legal services programs, or a person holding a Limited In-House Corporate Counsel License. See the definitions of “attorney”, “practice of law” and “respondent-attorney” in Rule 102.

absent attorney or his or her estate.

Note: Nothing in the Rules of Professional Conduct relating to conflict of interest, confidentiality, or any other provision, shall prevent the Office of Disciplinary Counsel from serving as conservator, and from subsequently pursuing an investigation, and disciplinary prosecution of the absent attorney, based upon information gathered during the course of Disciplinary Counsel’s service as conservator.

(f) Statutes of limitations and time for appeal. The filing by Disciplinary Counsel or any other interested person of an application for the appointment of a conservator under these rules shall be deemed for the purposes of any statute of limitations or limitation on time for appeal as the filing in the court of common pleas or other proper court or magisterial district court of this Commonwealth on behalf of every client of the absent attorney of a complaint or other proper process commencing any action, proceeding, appeal or other matter arguably suggested by any information appearing in the files of the absent attorney if:

the application for appointment of a conservator is granted, and substitute counsel actually files an appropriate document in a court or magisterial district court within 30 days after executing a receipt for the file relating to the matter.

Note: Under 42 Pa.C.S. § 5503(b) (relating to implementing court rules) the Supreme Court may define by rule the document which when filed constitutes the commencement of a matter for purposes of Chapter 55 of the Judicial Code (relating to limitation of time). Thus the application by Disciplinary Counsel under this rule is an omnibus pleading which stays the running of all statutes of limitations and appeal times pending a 30day review of the files of the absent attorney.

(g) Automatic stay. The filing by Disciplinary Counsel or any other interested person of an application for the appointment of a conservator under these rules shall operate as an automatic stay of all pending legal or administrative proceedings in this Commonwealth where the absent attorney is counsel of record until the earliest of such time as:

- (1)

the application for appointment of a conservator is denied;
- (2)

the conservator is discharged;
- (3)

the court, tribunal, magisterial district court or other government unit in which a matter is pending orders that the stay be lifted; or

- (4)

30 days after the court, tribunal, magisterial district court or other government unit in which a matter is pending is notified that substitute counsel has been retained.

(h) As used in this rule, the term “government unit” has the meaning set forth in 42 Pa.C.S. § 102 (relating to definitions).

Note: Under 42 Pa.C.S. § 5503(b) (relating to implementing court rules) the Supreme Court may define by rule the document which when filed constitutes the commencement of a matter for purposes of Chapter 55 of the Judicial Code (relating to limitation of time). Thus the application by Disciplinary Counsel under this rule is an omnibus pleading which stays the running of all statutes of limitations and appeal times pending a 30day review of the files of the absent attorney.

Rule 322. Duties of conservator.

(a) Possession of files; warrants. The conservator shall take immediate possession of all files of the absent attorney. If such possession cannot be obtained peaceably, the conservator shall apply to the appointing court for issuance of a warrant authorizing seizure of the files. Probable cause for issuance of such a warrant shall be an affidavit executed by the conservator reciting the existence of the conservatorship and the fact that the persons in control of the premises where the files are or may be located will not consent to a search for them or their removal or other facts showing that the files cannot be obtained without the use of the process of the court.

(b) Inventory. The conservator shall make a written inventory of all files taken into his or her possession.

(c)(1) Identification of clients. The conservator shall make a reasonable effort to identify all clients of the absent attorney whose files were opened within five (5) years of the appointment of the conservator, regardless of whether the case is active or not, and a reasonable effort to identify all clients whose cases are active, regardless of the age of the file. The conservator shall send all such clients, and former clients, written notice of the appointment of a conservator, the grounds which required such appointment, and the possible need of the clients to obtain substitute counsel. All such notices shall include the name, address and telephone number of any lawyer referral service or similar agency available to assist in the location of substitute counsel. The conservator shall, if necessary, send a second written notice to all clients of the absent attorney whose files appear to be active.

(2) Notice to clients. All clients whose files are identified by the conservator as both inactive and older than five (5) years shall be given notice by publication of the appointment of a conservator, the grounds which required such appointment, and the possible need of the clients to obtain substitute counsel. All such notices shall include the name, address and telephone number of any lawyer referral service or similar agency available to assist in the location of substitute counsel. The specific method of publication shall be approved by the appointing court, as to both the method, and duration, of publication, although at minimum a notice shall appear on one day in each of a newspaper of general circulation and the legal journal in the county in which the absent attorney maintained a principal office. The conservator shall deliver proofs of publication to the appointing court at the time of filing the application for discharge.

(3) Return and destruction of files. A file may be returned to a client upon the execution of a written receipt, or released to substitute counsel upon the request of the client and execution of a written receipt by such counsel. The conservator shall [deliver all such receipts to the appointing court at the time of filing the application for discharge]maintain an electronic record of all receipts. On approval by the appointing court of the application for discharge, all files remaining in the possession of the conservator shall be destroyed by the conservator in a secure manner which protects the confidentiality of the files.

(d) Representation prohibited during conservatorship. Until the conservatorship is terminated, [N]either the conservator nor any partner, associate or other lawyer practicing in association with the conservator shall represent any of the absent attorney’s clients[;]

(1) Make any recommendation of counsel to any client identified as a result of the conservatorship in connection with any matter identified during the conservatorship.

(2) Represent such a client] in connection with[;

(i)] any matter identified during the conservatorship[;]. [or

(ii) any other matter during or for a period of three years after the conclusion of the conservatorship.] With the consent of the client, the conservator may refer a client’s matter to a lawyer other than a lawyer disqualified from providing representation under this subdivision (d); the conservator shall not be eligible to receive a referral fee.

(e) Reports. The conservator shall file a written report with the appointing court and the Board no later than 30 days after the date of appointment covering the matters specified in [S] subdivisions (a) through (c) of this rule. If those duties have not been accomplished, then the conservator shall state what progress has been made in that regard. Thereafter, the conservator shall file a similar written report every 60 days until discharge.

(f) Notification of estate about costs. In the case of a deceased attorney, the conservator shall notify the executor of the estate of the Disciplinary Board’s need to be reimbursed by the estate for the costs and expenses incurred in accordance with Rule 328(b) (relating to compensation and expenses of conservator).

Rule 324. Bank and other accounts.

(a) Notice of appointment and service of order. A conservator shall notify all banks and financial institutions in which the absent attorney maintained either professional or trustee accounts of the appointment of a conservator under these rules. Service on a bank or financial institution of a certified copy of the order of appointment of the conservator shall operate as a modification of any agreement or deposit among such bank or financial institution, the absent attorney and any other party to the account so as to make the conservator a necessary signatory on any professional or trustee account maintained by the absent attorney with such bank or financial institution. The appointing court on application may by order direct that the conservator shall be sole signatory on any such account to the extent necessary for the purposes of these rules and may direct the disposition and distribution of client and other funds.

(b) Prompt distribution of funds. The conservator shall cause all funds of clients in the custody of the absent attorney to be returned to the clients as soon as possible, allowing for deduction of expenses or other proper charges owed by the clients to the absent attorney.

(c) Retention of CPA. The conservator may engage the services of a certified public accountant when considered necessary to assist in the bookkeeping and auditing of the financial accounts and records of the absent attorney.

(1) If the state of the financial accounts and records of the absent attorney, or other relevant circumstances, render a determination as to ownership of purported client funds unreasonable and impractical, the conservator shall petition the appointing court for permission to pay all funds held by the absent attorney in any trust, escrow, or IOLTA account, to the Pennsylvania Lawyers Fund [F]for Client Security. Any petition filed under this subsection shall be served by publication, the specific method and duration of which shall be approved by the appointing court.

(d) Distribution of remaining funds. Whenever it appears that sufficient funds are in the possession of the conservatorship to permit the return of all client funds in the custody of the absent attorney, and otherwise to complete the conservatorship and pay its expenses authorized under Enforcement Rule 328 (relating to compensation and expenses of conservator), the conservator shall permit the absent attorney or his or her estate to take full possession of any remaining funds.

Rule 325. Duration of conservatorship.

Appointment of a conservator pursuant to these rules shall be for a period of no longer than [six] nine months. The appointing court shall have the power, upon application of the conservator and for good cause, to [extend the appointment for an additional three months] grant one or more extensions of the appointment, each extension not to exceed six months. Any order granting [such] an extension shall include findings of fact in support of the extension. [No additional extensions shall be granted absent a showing of extraordinary circumstances.]

Rule 327. Liability of conservator.

Court Notices

- (a) A conservator appointed under these rules shall:
- (1) Not be regarded as having an attorneyclient relationship with clients of the absent attorney, except that the conservator shall be bound by the obligation of confidentiality imposed by the Rules of Professional Conduct with respect to information acquired as conservator.

(2) Have no liability to the clients of the absent attorney except for injury to such clients caused by intentional, wilful, or grossly negligent breach of duties as a conservator.

(3) Be immune [to separate] from civil suit brought by or on behalf of the absent attorney. Any objections by or on behalf of the absent attorney or any other person to the conduct of the conservator shall be raised in the appointing court during the pendency of the conservatorship.

Rule 328. Compensation and expenses of conservator.

- (a) Compensation. A conservator not associated with the Office of Disciplinary Counsel shall be compensated at an hourly rate identical to that received by court-appointed counsel at the non-court appearance rate in the judicial district where the conservator was appointed. When the conservator believes that extraordinary circumstances justify an enhanced hourly rate, the conservator may apply to the Board Chair for enhanced compensation. Such an application shall be granted only in those situations in which extraordinary circumstances are shown to justify enhanced compensation.
- (b) Expenses. The necessary expenses (including, but not limited to, the fees and expenses of certified public accountant engaged pursuant to Enforcement Rule 324(e)) and any compensation of a conservator or any attendant staff shall, if possible, be paid by the absent attorney or his or her estate. Any expenses and any compensation of the conservator that are not reimbursed to the Board shall be paid as a cost of disciplinary administration and enforcement. Payment of any costs incurred by the Board pursuant to this rule that have not been reimbursed to the Board may be made a condition of reinstatement of a formerly admitted attorney or may be ordered in a disciplinary proceeding brought against the absent attorney.

PUBLICATION REPORT

Proposed Amendmentof Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J.519.1

The Minor Court Rules Committee (“Committee”) is considering proposing to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania the amendment of Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 519.1, pertaining to a determination of abandonment of a manufactured home.

Background

The Manufactured Home Community Rights Act (“MHCRA”), 68 P.S. §§ 398.1

– 398.17, includes provisions for a determination of abandonment of a manufactured home located in a manufactured home community by a magisterial district court. See 68P.S. § 398.10.1.Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 519.1 was adopted by the Court to provide a procedural mechanism for such determinations. See 44 Pa.B.14 (January 4, 2014). A determination that a manufactured home has been abandoned means the manufactured home community owner or operator may act with respect to the abandoned manufactured home including, but not limited to, entering and securing the manufactured home, disconnecting it from utilities, and disposing of property subject to certain restrictions. See 68 P.S. § 398.10.2(a). Notably, § 398.10.1 requires judgment and execution of an order of possession for the manufactured home space upon which the manufactured home is located, rather than for the manufactured home itself.

The Committee received a request to review Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 519.1 for conformity with § 398.10.1. Specifically, it was noted that Rule 519.1 currently permits the determination of abandonment proceeding to occur at the same time as the hearing for the recovery of real property. See Pa.R. Civ.P.M.D.J. 519.1B. In contrast, § 398.10.1 provides that a “lessee or resident” of a manufactured home community, i.e., tenant, will be deemed to have abandoned his or her manufactured home and the personal property within in one of two ways. First, the determination of abandonment may be made via judicial process, which includes: (1) entry of a judgment in favor of the “community owner or operator,” i.e., landlord, of the manufactured home space where the manufactured home is located; (2) the execution of an order for possession on the judgment; and (3) a determination by the magisterial district court that the home and property has been abandoned. See 68 P.S. § 398.10.1(a)(1). Alternatively, the tenant may “voluntarily” abandon the manufactured home by making a written statement that the tenant has “physically or permanently vacated the home, does not intend to return to it, and has given up all further rights or ownership interest.” Id. at (a)(2).

In MHCRA, a “lessee” or “resident” mean a person who rents a manufactured home space from a lessor pursuant to the terms of a lease or an owner of a manufactured home who leases or rents space in a manufactured home community, respectively. See 68 P.S. § 398.2. Likewise, a “manufactured home community owner or “community owner” or a “manufactured home community operator or community operator” means a person or entity that owns a manufactured home community or a person or entity that conducts the operations of a manufactured home community on behalf of and as the agent of the community owner. Id. The Committee does not anticipate recommending amendments to modify the references to landlord and tenant in the rule to maintain consistency with other procedural rules pertaining to landlord-tenant matters and appeals.

Proposed Rules Changes

After comparing the statute and the current rule, the Committee concluded that Rule 519.1 would benefit from amendments to conform it with §398.10.1(a)(1). Because the execution on an order for possession is a component of a determination of abandonment, it seems premature for the landlord to obtain a determination of abandonment for the manufactured home without retaking, via execution, possession of the manufactured home community space on which the manufactured home is located. In other words, because a judgment for possession and execution on the judgment are necessary elements of a determination of abandonment, it is not possible to hold the hearing for possession and the determination of abandonment concurrently. Therefore, proposed Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 519.1(a)(1) requires the landlord to attach a copy of the judgment for possession entered by the magisterial district judge in favor of the landlord together with proof of the execution of an order for possession made on the judgment.

The Committee also observed that current Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 519.1, as drafted, does not address the concept of voluntary abandonment. While § 398.10.1 does not explicitly require a memorialization of a voluntary abandonment by the magisterial district court, the Committee believes it may be useful to incorporate it in the rule to provide further documentation for the Pennsylvania Department of Transportation and other entities that may be involved after the determination of abandonment is made. See, e.g., 68 P.S. § 398.10.2(f)(1) (pertaining to the sale of a manufactured home following a determination of abandonment). This is reflected in proposed Pa.R.Civ.P.M.D.J. 519.1(a)(2), which permits the landlord to provide the tenant’s written statement of abandonment with the request for a determination of abandonment hearing.

To accurately reflect the terminology of MHCRA, cross-references to 68P.S. § 398.2 were added to the commentary regarding the use of the terms “landlord” and “tenant” in Rule 519.1. The new commentary also includes a definition of “manufactured home space.”

The Committee is also considering deleting the phrase “parties in interest” in favor of a reference to the “parties.” The phrase “parties in interest” appears misplaced in this rule because there is no opportunity for a such a person or entity to raise a claim in the proceeding. The Committee specifically invites comments regarding this proposed change.

Finally, stylistic changes were made through out the rule, including, but not limited to, the addition of subdivision titles.

The Committee welcomes all comments, concerns, and suggestions regarding this proposal.
